REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF THE LITTLEFIELD LIBRARY

To the Citizens of the Town of Tyngsboro:—

During the past year your Trustees have endeavored to make the Littlefield Library more efficient, by adding to its attractiveness and extending its influence.

There has been placed in the interior of the Library a large case, the gift of Miss Marion Bennett. This case contains a collection of Stuffed Birds of New England contributed by Miss Bennett and Mrs. Cora Kable of Tyngsboro, Mr. A. B. Blodgett and Mrs. Mary Dunlap Leighton of Lowell, while several in the collection are loaned by Mr. J. C. Bennett of Lowell. This collection will be a very great help to those of us who care for the study of birds.

A few copies of sheet music for Piano have been donated to the Library. These contain some "studies" as well as regular pieces. We desire to call attention to the musical magazine "The Musician," which comes regularly each month. It contains many beautiful and varied pieces of music, both vocal and instrumental, and we would urge those having pianos to avail themselves of this opportunity to get in touch with the latest and better music of the day for their own advancement.

Our Branch Library in No. 3 District has shown its appreciation of our efforts to serve it by increasing our circulation over seven hundred in the last year. This has been accomplished at a cost of Twelve Dollars, which we feel is reasonable for the undertaking. In the near future we intend to place some French Fiction on the shelves which will be of interest to our French population.

In submitting the Librarian's report the Trustees desire to place on record an appreciation of the work of our Librarian, Miss Ellen L. Perham, whose even-tempered faithfulness and intelligent conscientiousness in placing the resources of the Library at the service of all patrons is such as to make it worthy of special mention and commendation.

Report of Supt. of Moth Work and Tree Warden

Tyngsborough, February 1, 1911.

I herewith submit my second annual report of the work in suppressing the gypsy and brown-tail moths, also the work of the Tree Warden. The local department has been aided by the United States Agricultural Department and by the hearty co-operation of the property owners of the town.

The State Department has treated the town very well, having allotted us $1,800.00 for moth work. The town's liability was $223.53. The work done for private owners netted about $650.00, making a total of about $2,675.00 expended by this department from Dec. 1, 1909, to Dec. 1, 1910 (the end of our year). For this year's work $500.00 has been given by the State, the town's liability is $231.92, making a total of $731.92. It is estimated that the same amount as last year will be needed to carry on the work.

The condition of the shade trees throughout the town has been very much improved during the last year. There is very little dead wood remaining in their tops. A great deal of the loose and useless bark has been removed. Some trees have been cut, and the brush has been cut away from around those remaining, thus allowing them to become straight, sound and healthy trees. The prediction I made that the leaves would be stripped from many of our elms unless some of them were sprayed for the elm-leaf beetle came true. People who own elms that were infested and did not have them sprayed realize that it shall have to be done this year. I should recommend that fifty ($50) dollars be appropriated for spraying public shade trees infested with the beetle. I should also recommend that the regular appropriation be increased to seventy-five ($75) dollars, and thus enable the Tree Warden to care for much other work which should be done.

The moth department has done a lot of work in the last year, and the condition of the highways and orchards shows the effects. The infestation by the gypsy moth has become more general, especially so in woodlands where it was impossible to do any work. While the whole town is infested, the western part, or in the direction of the Westford line, is the worse. In all probability some two or three hundred acres of woodland will be stripped in that section this coming summer.

The local department has been fortunate in securing the aid of the United States Department of Agriculture in this section of the town. It is the object of the government forces to check the spread of the moths as much as possible to other parts of New England and New York. It is claimed that the spread of the gypsy moth is largely due to the passage of automobiles and teams through the infested districts to other sections of the country not infested. The government, to check this spread, go over the main highways that have become badly infested, thinning out the growth on each side of the road for seventy-five or one hundred feet, creosote the egg clusters, and each spring this belt on each side of the road is sprayed. If the infestation is bad enough, tanglefoot is placed about the trees, and thus prevents the caterpillars from going up. In this way the caterpillars are kept back away from the road and from any vehicle that would carry them. In three years, or when the condition of the moths warrants, these roads will be turned back to the town to take care of, free from brush and dead wood and in a condition that can be easily handled. In conducting this work the government has taken up over fifteen miles of road. The local superintendent hopes to get a few more miles taken care of before they leave town.

Spraying operations were the most important work done by the local department this last year. Two hand pumps were started May 17th and kept going until June 24th, with a power sprayer sandwiched in for two days and a half. During this time two tons of arsenate of lead was used, as against three hundred pounds for the year before. It is estimated that 75 per cent. of the orchards in the town were sprayed, one thousand shade trees, all the state highway from the state line to the Lowell line. The river bank from the bridge to the Lowell line was sprayed with the power sprayer. This machine was also used for spraying the hardwoods on Tyngs Island. While spraying seven men and two horses were employed. Burlap was placed about the principal shade trees, for the turning of which three men were employed from June 24th to July 30th, when work was discontinued.

August 22nd work was resumed, at first only two men were employed besides the superintendent. The burlap was removed from the trees and the gypsy moth egg clusters about the base of the trees were creosoted. This being the best time of the year for trimming, most of the Tree Warden's money was spent at this time for this work. Later on more men were added to the force, and some roadside cutting was done. The thinning out and burning of brush on a lot which was badly infested with gypsy moths and located on the Lowell Boulevard below the Vesper Country Club ended the season's work.

Since December 1st the department has been engaged in removing the brown-tail webs and treating the gypsy moth egg clusters on street trees and adjacent property. This work will not be finished until about April 1st.

The plans for this coming season are about the same as those followed out this past year. More roadside spraying will be done and the orchards attended to. Some woodland spraying will also be done.

The local superintendent wishes to thank the property owners for their co-operation in this work, which he cannot do well unless the owners aid him. I hope that this will explain the work of this department, and that we will not live many years before these pests are under control.

Respectfully submitted,
HOWARD E. NOBLE,
Tree Warden and Local Supt. of Moth Work.

School Superintendent's Report

To the School Committee of Tyngsborough.

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

I have the honor to present herewith my fifth annual report, which is the twentieth in the series of superintendents' reports.

School Savings.

Since January 1st a system of saving has been introduced in the schools by which pupils may deposit their pennies in a savings bank each week. The Central Savings Bank of Lowell sends a collector to receive deposits from the pupils of those schools of two or more rooms that are located on or near a car line.

When a pupil makes a deposit he is given a folder, upon which is entered his name and the dates and amounts of his deposits. Any amount of one cent or more will be accepted. When the pupil has one dollar or more on deposit he is given a regular bank book. This bank book is retained by the collector until the close of the school year in order to facilitate posting, entry of dividends, etc. The folders, which are kept by the pupils, serve as a receipt for money deposited. At the close of the school year the bank books are returned to the owners.

Interest is paid on all deposits of one dollar or more.

In case a pupil wishes to withdraw money from the bank he fills out an order blank, which must be signed by one of his parents. Upon presentation of this order, properly signed, at the banking rooms, the money will be paid. The collector is not authorized to make payments.

The plan furnishes a most efficient method of teaching thrift.

The Garden Clubs.

Last year pupils in grades 2 to 6 were given an opportunity to join a Bean Club, the boys in grades 7 and 8 had opportunity to join a Corn Club, and the girls in those grades an Aster Club. Thirty-six Tyngsborough children joined the Bean Club, seven the Corn Club and three the Aster Club. The products of these gardens were exhibited at the Billerica Grange Fair in September. Prizes to the value of $25 were offered by the Middlesex North Agricultural Society, and 12 fifty-mile automobile rides were offered by the Superintendent of Schools. The prize winners in Tyngsborough were as follows:—

In the Bean Club, Dorothy Lorman won second prize with 1,914 beans. Wendell Reed won an auto ride, and Helen Carlin (1,161), Margaret Hoagland (954), and Ruth McLoon (908) won third prizes.

In the Corn Club, Nelson McLoon won first prize for having the best ten ears of corn raised by any pupil in the eight competing towns. Ralph Harlow won second prize, Howard McLoon an auto ride, and Webster Hoagland a third prize.

In the Aster Club, Ruth Sherburne won a second prize.

The largest number of beans raised from the 25 seeds given out was 2,800. Last year the largest number was 1,637—a product exceeded by nine pupils this year.

Attendance and Teachers.

If you will study the table of statistics of attendance in the last pages of this report, you will observe that the attendance in our schools during the past year has been very poor—poorer than at any other time during the past five years. While much irregular attendance was caused by the quarantining of children who had been exposed to contagious diseases, and was therefore unavoidable, the detrimental effects upon the work of the schools was none the less pronounced.

We have again been obliged to renew seventy-five per cent. of the teaching force in the Winslow School. As I have stated before, such unfortunate changes are to be expected so long as we employ capable teachers at small salaries. Larger salaries would help to retain our teachers for a longer term of service, but frequent changes are probably inevitable even then.

Children's Night.

At the annual Children's Night at Tyngsborough Grange the school children exhibited some of their hand work and gave the following entertainment, which was designed to illustrate some of the regular work of the schools:

Motion songs, pupils from grades 1 and 2.

Rapid addition, grades 3 and 4.

Songs, grades 3 and 4.

Story telling, Sarah McGrath, Lester Sherburne and Wendell Blanchard, grade 4.

Music and spelling match, grades 5 and 6.

Sight singing, grades 7 and 8.

Sight reading, grades 5 and 6.

Five-minute drawing contest, grades seven and eight.

Songs, grades 7 and 8.

The Grange gave an entertainment for the pleasure of the children and served them with delicacies in the lower hall.

School Work.

This year we have made a beginning toward teaching our pupils in grades 3 to 6 the forearm movement in penmanship. I do not anticipate that very satisfactory results will be attained by many pupils this year. In some schools in the district the penmanship is in worse condition than before. It will be a long and by no means easy task for pupils to acquire this method of writing to such a degree that it is their habitual method of writing, but the general sentiment seems to be that the method is worth the effort required to attain it. As in the case of most other school subjects, the results attained are in direct proportion to the ability and enthusiasm of the teacher. In some schools in the district remarkably good results have been attained. Nearly all teachers are working hard and faithfully upon the problem, and ultimately good results are assured.

In Arithmetic we are trying to devise work of a more practical nature than much usually found in text books. In real life some of the most difficult problems involve the getting of data upon which to work. For example, the skill of the physician depends largely upon his ability to diagnose the case. Laboratory methods of studying the sciences in high schools and colleges has largely replaced much of the book work of former times, while in the elementary schools, for example, work with living plants and animals has taken the place of a study of nature from books.

The problems of buying and selling, the activities of the several industries, and the gathering of data from the immediate environment of the pupil furnish ample material for practical work. Some of these opportunities have been assigned for study to each teacher in grades 3 to 8. When problems have been worked out by the teacher of the school they will be hektographed and distributed to the other teachers in the district. In this way a considerable amount of material will be supplied with a minimum of effort. Problems involving the measurement of the school room, its furnishings and the paper and other school material used; some based upon the cost of groceries and other merchandise as advertised in the daily papers; the expenditures of the several town departments; the cost of school supplies and other expenses of running the schools; problems based on the current quotations of stocks and bonds, etc., etc., are being prepared. In every case it is necessary for the pupil to get for himself the data necessary for the solution of the problem. This is the essential difference between this work and that which the text books supply. We believe that this work, while more difficult in administration, will be worth while for supplementing the previous work.

Your superintendent has begun the plan of submitting examples to test the speed and accuracy of our pupils in addition, multiplication, etc. Only drill work in the essential parts of number will be tested in this way.

The work in Physiology has also been strengthened somewhat this year. A course of study prepared by a committee of the Massachusetts Superintendents' Association has been furnished each teacher and desk books for supplementary use have been supplied.

Though possessing the possibilities of being one of the most valuable subjects taught in the public schools, Physiology has been generally neglected by teachers and proportionately disliked by pupils. It requires some knowledge, skill, and tact to so teach the subject that it becomes a vital one, yet it is probably true that no subject will better repay the effort expended. Physiology should be so taught as to make it an essentially practical subject.

The school gardens last year attained about the same degree of success as those of former years. The unusually dry season was a serious handicap.

I believe that we must devote the school garden to the purposes of a laboratory for teaching some of the laws of plant growth. A conference of teachers in grades 5 to 8 will be called this term to consider the matter.

The work in gardening, like that in manual training, presents difficulties because: 1st. Many teachers still cling to the idea that the purpose of the school is to drill children upon facts. 2nd. Few teachers really know very much either in theory or practice about the laws of plant growth. In gardening, as in penmanship, drawing and manual training, the results appear in tangible form, so that the success or failure of the teaching may be measured more nearly accurately than in subjects like Literature or History. Doubtless because of this fact supervisors are very often employed in these subjects, though these things are no more difficult to teach than other subjects, provided the teacher is equipped with the requisite knowledge and experience. We must have patience with teachers until they have had a reasonable time in which to adjust themselves to the new demands that are constantly being put upon them.

Teachers' meetings have been held as usual throughout the year.

Training for Citizenship.

Occasionally some citizen makes complaint somewhat as follows:—"I don't send my child to school to mend books," or, "The teacher has no right to whip my child," or, "The boys at school are 'picking on' John, and I want it stopped at once," etc. In nearly every such complaint it is found that the parent believes that the school exists merely to teach his child the three R's and the acquisition of such other facts as are usually learned in school.

The State maintains the schools for the general purpose of training for citizenship. Such training includes not only the acquisition of knowledge and the training of the intellect, but more especially the instilling of those moral and social qualities that one must possess in order to live as a citizen in intimate relations with his fellowmen.

Chapter 42, Sec. 1 of the Revised Laws states that the subjects that must be taught in the public schools are as follows: "Orthography, reading, writing, the English language and grammar, geography, arithmetic, drawing, the history of the United States, physiology and hygiene and GOOD BEHAVIOR." Chapter 5, Sec. 2 of the State Constitution says: ". . . . It shall be the duty of all instructors of youth to impress on the minds of children and youth committed to their care and instruction the principles of piety and justice and a sacred regard to truth, love of their country, humanity and universal benevolence; sobriety, industry and frugality; chastity, moderation and temperance; and those other virtues which are the ornament of human society and the basis upon which a republican constitution is founded."

These virtues cannot be effectively taught by having the teacher lecture about them. Some form of activity must be found in which these virtues will be employed. During school hours there are excellent opportunities for children to practice some of the virtues necessary for good citizenship. Pupils must be taught to obey, not only when they wish to do so, but when their own desires are opposed to the best interests of the remainder of the school. They must be considerate of the rights and welfare of others by being quiet, that they may not disturb the study of their school fellows. They must do their work carefully and thoroughly, not to please the teacher, but because the world desires and needs men and women who do their best work, whatever it may be. There are opportunities for pupils to contribute to the welfare, progress or comfort of their fellow pupils by distributing papers, dusting desks, repairing books, cleaning blackboards, carrying water, cleaning the school yard, etc. The claim that the janitor or teacher is hired to do such work is wide of the mark, and fails to take into consideration the function of the school. Such work has a proper place in the school curriculum because it is a valuable contribution to the training for good citizenship. The world needs citizens who are willing and desirous of serving their fellows, not for what material gain they get out of it, but because they realize their obligations to society and appreciate the opportunity for service that is theirs. Now that the home is teaching less of responsibility in the family it is the more necessary that the school teach civic responsibility.

It is of incalculable value for a pupil to have had the opportunity to attend a school where he must mingle with a considerable number of other children. He must adjust himself to the standards of the group, and though he may have some unpleasant experiences during the process, the fact that he had difficulties proves that he needed adjustment. As a matter of fact, the playground furnishes one of the best opportunities for teaching the social virtues. The boy who cheats at his play soon finds out that such a course is not profitable in the long run. The boy who always thinks of himself first soon finds that he has few friends among the children of the neighborhood. No child should be encouraged by his parents to think that all other children must adjust themselves to his ideas. These anti-social desires of the child—to have his own way; to be idle when he does not feel like work; to wish to secure results by the least effort, sometimes to the extent of copying or cheating, cannot always be corrected by the teacher without resort to some form of punishment. In a few cases corporal punishment is necessary. It is little short of miraculous that teachers so seldom find it necessary to resort to severe measures. When, however, they do find it necessary to inflict corporal punishment, they have full authority under the law to do so.

Conclusion.

There are three factors of great importance to the success of a public school system: 1. An intelligent public desirous of having good schools and willing to support them. 2. An efficient school committee whose purpose is to administer the school system in a businesslike manner. 3. An intelligent, well-trained, sympathetic corps of teachers who are anxious to grow professionally in order that they may serve their pupils more efficiently. It is a pleasure to state that the towns in this district are fortunate in each of these particulars. At no time during the five years that I have served you has the public shown such wholesome interest in the schools or freely granted so much money for their support. The schools as a whole have been cared for in a more businesslike manner than usual, and our teachers were never more earnest in their work than at present. A continuance of these conditions will mean much to the progress of the schools. The cordial co-operation of the public and the unfailing assistance and support of your committees has been of incalculable benefit to your superintendent in his endeavors to advance the interests of the schools.

SCHOOL REPORT.

To the Town of Tyngsborough:—

It gives me great pleasure to report the schools of Tyngsborough have had a very successful year, and except for the unavoidable change in teachers of three rooms, everything has run along smoothly and profitably. I think the reports of the superintendent and supervisors of music and drawing, which follow, show progress of the schools better than words of mine can.

Respectfully submitted,

LUCIEN C. McLOON,

Chairman School Committee.

Report of Supervisor of Drawing

Mr. S. Howard Chace, Superintendent of Schools:—

Dear Sir:—I take pleasure in presenting to you my seventh annual report of the work in Drawing in the schools of the Tewksbury District.

The general outline which I submit is much the same as last year, but it is modified where the larger interests of the classes or school seem to demand a change.

In the Fall we began our work in color and nature drawing. Later, the material thus obtained we used in composition and applied design. At Thanksgiving, peace and menu cards, book covers, etc., were made. Lettering was introduced in connection with this work. Still later came the problems in structural design and mechanical drawing, followed by the making of the objects planned. At this time came the work for Christmas. Objects were made in paper, cardboard, wood, metal, leather, fabrics and raffia. Weaving, tooling of leather, embroidery, sewing, and stencilling were taught. Pictures by the masters, and good present-day illustrations relative to the Christmas Festival were studied.

Object drawing, grouping, the study of foreshortening and convergence demands considerable time in the winter months.

March, April, May and June is given to color and design.

I wish to acknowledge the valuable assistance of the teachers of the District.

Very respectfully submitted,

LILLA E. ROCHE,

Supervisor of Drawing.

Report of Supervisor of Music

Mr. S. Howard Chace, Superintendent of Schools:—

Dear Sir:—I take pleasure in submitting to you my sixth annual report as Supervisor of Music in the Tewksbury District. This year we have thought best to divide the first and second grade children, except for the rote songs, into two classes. In this way the children in the first grade obtain more individual attention and those in the second are able to take more advanced work.

The third and fourth grades are working with individual slips, music primers and rote songs in much the same manner as that of last year. In these four lower grades this year, however, we are introducing oral and written dictation. The chief aim of this dictation work is to train the ear. In oral dictation, the teacher sings different intervals with loo, and then the children repeat the same intervals, singing them with the proper syllable names. The written dictation is done in the same manner, except that the child writes on the staff in notes what the teacher has sung.

The fifth and sixth grades are paying special attention to chromatic drills given by dictation and work in the different keys. Besides this, they are taking the usual individual slips, two-part work in the Music Readers and a few supplementary songs.

The seventh and eighth grades are having songs and exercises from Music Reader V., sight singing, supplementary songs and dictation work in chromatics and rhythm studies. The mixed schools devote most of their music time to rote songs and the individual slips.

Respectfully submitted,

JESSIE MAY HAGAR.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF LITTLEFIELD LIBRARY

To the Citizens of the Town of Tyngsborough:—

The Trustees note some changes and improvements during the past year. They were sorry to receive the resignation of Miss Ellen L. Perham as Librarian on the first of last June, after over 20 years of faithful and conscientious service. Under her supervision the Library has passed from the small room in the present Town Hall building before its remodelling to an unused room in the schoolhouse, then back to a section of the banquet room of the Town Hall, and finally to its present quarters in 1905, where she classified and arranged the books in their present order. The Trustees were fortunate in being able to obtain as her successor Miss Jennie J. Bancroft, who has assisted Miss Perham and was conversant with the work.

A telephone has been placed in the Library for the use of the public, and books may be renewed in this manner.

There is now no restriction placed on the number of books taken from the Library by borrowers with the exception of (7) seven day books, one of these being allowed to each family.

Arrangements have been made to keep our No. 3 Branch open, the school there having been closed, and to continue sending books to that part of the town. Our No. 3 Branch circulation the past year has been 600, which shows the necessity of keeping this Branch alive.

The road on the face of the hill in front of the Library has been closed and the lawn has been graded, reloaded and seeded, thus giving the grounds a better appearance.

The Massachusetts Agricultural College has loaned to the Library 20 vols. on varied agricultural subjects, and we hope they will be profitably read for the betterment of everyone concerned. We expect to have more of these books on our shelves, and it would assist the Trustees if citizens desiring such or any book would communicate with them or the Librarian.

The Librarian's and Treasurer's reports are herewith submitted.

HORACE T. BANCROFT,

Chairman for the Trustees.

Report of Cemetery Commissioners

The Tyng, Flint and Thompson cemeteries have received their usual care of ground and perpetual care lots. At the Sherburne Cemetery much improvement has been made, the road leading into the grounds has been graded, the Daniel Lawrence lot has been renovated and several other lots graded and newly seeded, showing increased interest in improvements in this nature.

Iron gates have been placed at each entrance by Mrs. Perham of Lowell, one in memory of her late husband, Haven C. Perham. These are great and pleasing improvements. The Commissioners in behalf of the town herein express their grateful appreciation of her generous gift.

For financial part of account see Auditor's report.

School Superintendent's Report

To the School Committee of Tyngsborough.

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

I have the honor to present herewith my sixth annual report, which is the twenty-first in the series of district superintendents' reports.

We have had no changes in our corps of teachers this year—a circumstance that has not occurred often of late. The attendance this year has been the best we have experienced during the last six years, at least. Ninety-two per cent. is a very creditable record of attendance.

The work of the schools has continued practically on the same lines as previously reported. The work in penmanship is making commendable progress—better than in most schools in the district. The credit for this belongs to the teachers, for they have done very efficient and conscientious work. In arithmetic the environment work has made progress. A large number of problems have been accumulated and placed at the disposal of the teachers. Taken as a whole, I believe that the schools have attained more satisfactory results during the past year than during any other since I have known them.

The home garden clubs were continued during the past year. The seventh and eighth grade boys raised popcorn and the girls in those grades planted zinnias. More children in the Middlesex North district joined these clubs this year than ever before, but the unfavorable season interfered seriously with results. The exhibit at Billerica was the poorest we have ever had. Only seven prizes were won by Tyngsboro pupils. Gerald Lorman, Lester Sherburne and Gladys Lorman won third prizes in the Bean Club. Nelson McLoon, Webster Hoagland and Ralph Harlow won third prizes in the Popcorn Club. Ruth McLoon, Gerald Lorman, Ralph Harlow and Webster Hoagland won fifty-mile auto rides. Besides these garden clubs more than 1500 penny packets of seeds were purchased by pupils in this district for planting in the home garden.

Since there were to be only two children in the Number 3 school this fall, the school was closed and the children are being transported to the Rocky Hill School in Groton. Four of the pupils who were in this school last year are attending high school—one in Lowell, one in Groton, and two in Westford.

One pupil, Clifford Fuller, is attending the Industrial School in Lowell. The tuition in this school is $100 per year, one half of which is refunded by the State.

Very efficient work has been done during the past year by the School Physician. He has visited the schools often and has given careful oversight to danger from contagious disease. All pupils in the school have now been vaccinated or have received from physicians certificates of exemption. Hereafter it will be a comparatively simple matter to continue the present condition by not allowing any child to enter school until he has been vaccinated. Inasmuch as most parents wish their children to enter school before they are seven years of age (the compulsory attendance age) they will voluntarily have the children vaccinated.

The School Committee of Wilmington applied through the State Board of Education for admission to this district. At a meeting of our committee held the latter part of June this request was granted. The district now includes the towns of Draeut, North Reading, Tewksbury, Tyngsboro and Wilmington. There are 45 schools, 49 teachers, four supervisors and 24 committee members. The salary and time of the superintendent was so distributed that Tyngsboro is entitled to one day in three weeks and pays $13.34 per month towards his salary, a little more than half of which is refunded by the State. The amount received this year from the State for the superintendent's salary is smaller than usual because, on account of the admission of Wilmington on July 1 the State Board changed the close of the financial year from September 1 to July 1, so the towns formerly in this district received only ten months' rebate instead of twelve.

On January 1, 1911, a system of penny savings was introduced in the schools. Every week the Central Savings Bank of Lowell sends a representative to the Winslow School to receive deposits. Any amount is accepted—one cent or more. During the year 43 bank books have been issued to our school children. In addition to these depositors there were 21 children whose deposits amounted to less than one dollar each, so they are not yet entitled to bank books. The deposits of these 64 children amounted to $156.87. Of this amount one child withdrew $4, leaving a balance of $152.87 on deposit on January 1, 1912. The largest amount deposited during the year by any one pupil was $13.92, the smallest was $0.01. The average amount per pupil on deposit on January 1, 1912, was $2.39. This is a very creditable beginning. With the habit of saving well started, the encouragement of teachers and parents should result in having the children save even more another year.

A 1000 gallon pneumatic tank system of water supply has been installed in the Winslow School building. Water is pumped from the well into the tank by electricity. An automatic control turns the current on and off when a proper amount of pressure is registered in the tank. Two bubblers have been installed in the hall up-stairs from which the children may obtain water without danger from contagious disease. The water tank is situated in the basement, where the temperature is reasonably cool both winter and summer, so the water should always be suitably cool for drinking purposes. The tank is also impervious to dust and dirt. The system meets all the requirements of the law and should give thoroughly satisfactory service.

All of the desks in the school were re-finished during the summer, so that they looked almost as well as new ones. This was the best work at re-finishing that I have ever seen. Two new teachers' desks were purchased to replace two that were inadequate for the needs of the school.

Next year the schoolhouse should be re-shingled. The paint on the outside is also in poor condition, and should receive attention at an early date.

Another year it will be necessary for the Grammar and Second Primary Schools to exchange rooms. The third and fourth grades next year will be too large to be accommodated in the room now used by these grades. The room recently enlarged will be large enough for their use. The Grammar School will again be small—not more than 20 or 25 pupils. The present third and fourth grade room will accommodate that number. The seats in the two rooms should be changed during the summer.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, may I commend to committees, parents and teachers this "School Teacher's Creed," written by Edwin Osgood Grover.

"I believe in boys and girls, the men and women of a great tomorrow; that whatsoever the boy soweth the man shall reap. I believe in the curse of ignorance; in the efficacy of schools; in the dignity of teaching; and in the joy of serving others. I believe in wisdom as revealed in human lives as well as in the pages of the printed book; in lessons taught, not so much by precept as by example; in ability to work with the hands as well as to think with the head; in everything that makes life large and lovely. I believe in beauty in the school room, in the home, in daily life and out of doors. I believe in laughter; in love; in faith; in all ideals and distant hopes that lure us on. I believe that every hour of every day we receive a just reward for all we are and all we do. I believe in the present and its opportunities; in the future and its promises; and in the divine joy of living. Amen."

Respectfully submitted,

S. HOWARD CHACE.

Report of Supervisor of Manual Arts

Mr. S. Howard Chace, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—I herewith submit the report of Drawing for the year 1911-1912.

The beginning of the school year in the fall, the season of color, seemed a most fitting time for the introduction of color work. In the lower grades colors were taught and used to fill in outlines of fruits, borders and simple landscapes. The smaller children were thus given the opportunity to express in color the impressions that nature had been making upon their receptive minds. Each specimen carried with it a story of varying keenness of observation. The means and methods adapted to secure good results, consisting of a proper knowledge and application of different strokes, were, after simple directions had been given, unconsciously employed by the children in their earnest desire to place the pictures their minds held. Color circles and scales of light and dark values were taught in the upper grades to better acquaint children with placing of colors, the terms,—tints and shades, and the mixing of paints to produce the desired colors. Here, too, color was applied to nature work and landscapes, the latter were used in January for mounting lessons and calendars were made. The aim always tending towards practical application.

Paper cutting and construction resulted in boxes, cornucopias and fruit baskets for Christmas in the lower grades. Since Christmas objects relative to the season have been drawn and cut. Shape and proportion are taught to the little people through their knowledge of common objects found in the home.

Raffia work is progressing in the third and fourth grades. We began with the simple winding over cardboard, continued with braiding and sewing, and aim to cordmaking and weaving.

In the upper grades work in leather produced pen wipers, pocket books, card cases, bill folds and hand bags from patterns and designs made by the pupils.

Simple rules governing object drawing have been taken up and applied to objects in blackboard practice and drawing with pencil. This branch of drawing demands thought, which develops the observation most keenly and adds to the pupil's power of execution.

Good spacing, nature work, reviewing of colors, design and its application, and as much construction work as time and material allow, are the plans for the remainder of the year.

I wish to thank the Superintendent and the teachers for the interest they have extended to me and to my work.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARET J. CARNEY,

Supervisor of Drawing.

Report of Supervisor of Music

Mr. S. Howard Chace, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—I take pleasure in submitting to you my first report as Supervisor of Music in the Tewksbury District.

Grades one and two, with the exception of Rote and scale songs, are divided into two classes. The first of the year we spent much time curing the monotones. They have since done scale work (class and individually), chart, tone and dictation work.

The second grade is doing scale work, including Diatonic Modulation, that is, they sing down and up to Do, they then sing Re and call it Do, and so on. Changing the next note to Do gives them the tonic of the new scale. This is the first step in modulating.

Tonal dictation, chart work and exercises from "Introductory Singing Exercises" comprise our work thus far.

Grades three and four are working with Rote Songs, Music Primers, dictation and individual singing from "Individual Singing Exercises" by Arthur J. Abbott.

I endorse and put into practice the following by Mr. Abbott:

"By the use of these Exercises each pupil hears and sees what the individual is attempting, as each pupil is supplied with a book. As one pupil sings, other members of the class mentally sing and orally pass judgment upon the effort; thus no time is lost, and no educational principle is violated.

"Individual singing is more desirable as an aid in training the pupil to depend upon himself, and help him become an independent thinker and doer, than as a test of his ability to sing at sight."

We have touched on the Minor Mode, that is, the pupils have learned to distinguish between a Major and Minor Exercise.

Grades five and six are using Music Reader, with some supplementary songs. We are paying special attention to the Minor Mode, also to the recognition of the different forms.

We are working with chromatic drills. Our individual work is taken from the Music Reader, by so doing we incorporate the same principle applied in grades three and four.

Grades seven and eight are using Music Reader five for Exercises, and some songs. I make hektograph ink copies of songs selected from standard school material, and the teacher in turn makes copies on the hektograph for the class.

We do this as most of the songs in the book are too difficult for the class.

Much time has been devoted to the Major keys, and we are now taking up the Minor keys and different forms of the Minor scale.

I wish to acknowledge the kind co-operation of the teachers of the town.

Respectfully submitted,

MILDRED COLVILLE MALTON.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

To the Citizens of Tyngsborough:

It gives me pleasure to report in behalf of the school committee, another successful year in our schools. This is due in a great part to our superintendent, Mr. Chace, and the town is fortunate in having a man of his ability at the head of its schools.

The committee has had its usual amount of trouble during the past year, the most of which seems to arise from the transportation of scholars. This has always been a source of more or less trouble and probably always will be, but we have given the matter much thought of late, hoping to adjust it to some extent.

I ask you all to read the following reports of the Superintendent and Supervisors, as they give a very good idea of the work being done in our schools.

Respectfully submitted,

CHESTER H. QUEEN,

Chairman of School Committee.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the School Committee of Tyngsborough.

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

Herewith is submitted my seventh annual report. This is the twenty-second in the series of superintendents' reports.

An honor unusual for any town was won for Tyngsborough in the Lowell High School last year. Two of the six Carney medals were awarded to Ada Louise Sherburne and Maxwell Gardner Sherburne of Tyngsboro. The fact that two members of the same family won these scholarship honors in the same year is also an unprecedented occurrence.

During the summer vacation, the Winslow School building was shingled and painted. Good material was used and good workmanship is in evidence in these repairs. Double windows have been placed on the north side of the basement to prevent the freezing of the water supply system.

The assignment of grades to the several rooms in the building has been changed this year. The principal's room—grades seven and eight—is now at the right of the front entrance. Grades five and six occupy the room at the left of the front entrance. Grades one and two are assigned to the room in the rear of the building on the right-hand side of the hall, while grades three and four are in the room on the left of the hall. These changes were made because the former principal's room was the only one large enough to accommodate the number of children in grades three and four.

Important changes in the teaching force have also taken place. Miss Carrie Knowlton has been promoted to the principalship of the building and Miss Susan Morse preferred to teach grades three and four this year. Miss Mabel Putnam was elected to teach grades one and two and Miss Mildred Buck, grades five and six.

The garden work has been conducted along the same lines as formerly. Grades five and six planted a school garden with rather better results than during the trying season of the previous year. More than 3,000 penny packets of seeds were purchased by children in the five towns of the district. These were planted in the home gardens. The Middlesex North Agricultural Society offered $200 in premiums for children's work, not alone in gardening, but in cooking, sewing, wood-working, poultry-keeping and stock judging. Tyngsborough children sent exhibits to the agricultural fair and won a goodly number of prizes. Similar opportunities will be offered next year.

The Central Savings bank of Lowell has continued to collect penny savings at the Winslow School. The table given below records the essential facts concerning these collections.

	1911	1912	Totals. Jan. 1, 1913.
Total no. of depositors,	64	45
No. who have bank-books,	43	6	49
No. of deposits less than $1.,	21	39
Total amount on deposit,	$152.87	$86.07	$238.94
Amount withdrawn,	$4.00	$2.95	$6.95
Largest individual deposit,	$13.92	$9.34
Smallest individual deposit,	$.01	$.01
Average deposit,	$2.39	$1.97
Average collection,		$2.87

It should be noted that much less was deposited last year than during the first year that the opportunity was offered. Parents should lend all possible encouragement to this worthy work.

It is a pleasure to record that as time goes on, our teachers are making the work of the schools more and more practical and are bringing the exercises of the class-room into closer relations with the life of the pupils outside of school. I am confident that this will result in deeper enthusiasm on the part of teachers and greater interest on the part of pupils as well as in much greater educational benefits from the work. I believe that the townspeople will be interested in the reports below which are quoted from the teachers' reports of the work done in their schools during the fall term. The limits of this report do not permit me to include the work of more than one class in each grade.

Grade I.

Reading.

Recitation time, five forty-five minute periods.

Division A. This class has read the Aldine Primer as far as the last rhyme.

Division B. This class has finished the sixth rhyme. Have read as far as this rhyme twice, as five in the class have been absent on account of scarlet fever scare.

Phonic work given as is planned in the Aldine Manual.

Grade II.

Spelling.

Recitation time, 5 minutes oral; 10 minutes, written.

Most of this spelling has been purely phonic consisting of words with short vowels and with long vowels. Some of the common families taken from the chart. This will be continued from the chart together with words taken from their reading lesson, as well as words from the Aldine primer.

This class usually has eight or nine words, sometimes ten.

Usually in oral spelling, I call on every one in the class, calling on the poorer spellers the most. Sometimes, when they have studied exceptionally well, I let them have a spelling match.

After the oral drill, I send all the children to the board, and I give a short, easy sentence with one of the spelling words in it. They write the sentence, underlining the word in the sentence. This brings in the capital letter at the beginning of the sentence, also punctuation at the end. After that, the children go to their seats, and as I dictate the words, they write them. Sometimes, I correct the papers, at other times, I let them exchange papers and correct.

Grade III.

Arithmetic.

Recitation time, five twenty-five minute periods.

Review of separations, combinations, multiplication, and division through 18.

Separations and combinations by inference to 100, as, 7 plus 4 equals 11; 17 plus 4 equals 21.

Addition, using numbers of 2, 3, and 1 figures with and without carrying.

Special effort made to get children to group numbers, 6 and 3 equals 9; 2 and 4, 6; 3 and 2, 5.

Counting by 2, 3, and 4 to 100, beginning with 1, 2, 3, 4.

Subtraction, using numbers of three figures where there is borrowing in two figures.

Multiplication tables through 7. Examples, using

2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7, as multiplier with 3 figures in multiplication.

Grade IV.

Geography.

Recitation time, three twenty minute periods.

Geography of Tyngsborough.

Terms: Town, village, city, state.

Directions, names of surrounding towns and directions from Tyngsborough.

Study of Merrimac and its effects on Tyngsborough.

Grade V.

Language.

Recitation time, five twenty minute periods.

In the language work I have followed a programme similar to the following:

Monday—Original story. In class we talk over various subjects, and suggest different things to write about.

Tuesday—Reproduction. Sometimes I read a story to them which they tell me before writing.

They also write stories they have read themselves.

Occasionally they write an original story from a picture.

Wednesday—A letter or some form of invitation. They have written letters to members of the class who were absent on account of illness; business letters ordering various things; formal and informal invitations and replies.

Thursday—Copy a poem or part of a poem to learn and recite.

“Love of Country.”

“The Sandpiper.”

"October."

"The Landing of the Pilgrims."

"Daffodils."

Also eight "Memory Gems."

Friday—Dictation exercise. The exercise involves some form of punctuation, or some new point I want to have them learn.

My aim is to have them acquire a large vocabulary, and the ability to use it in oral as well as written work.

Grade VI.

Environment Work.

During the month of October, we compiled a magazine which contained original stories, reproductions, current events including town items, also a few poems and jokes.

The magazine was in the entire charge of the children who looked after the different departments, making the cover, and the putting together.

The children wrote invitations inviting Miss Knowlton's room to our Christmas exercises, which consisted of a play called "The Christmas Wish," original stories, and songs and poems by the school.

In arithmetic, they have done many problems which were made up from prices which they obtained from the grocery store.

In history, they have looked up the history of Tyngsborough somewhat; found out how the town got its name, something of the life of the man it was named for, also something about one or two of the historical houses in town.

In geography, I have tried in different ways to impress upon them the importance of the Merrimac River.

In the study of New England, I have emphasized the Lumbering Industry.

The children are going through the "Box Shop" and write a paper on that industry.

In drawing, they have painted landscapes, Xmas cards, and made table runners, sofa pillows, and Christmas boxes.

The children choose sides in spelling and the side that lost entertained the other side with an entertainment similar to the one we gave at Christmas time.

I have read several stories to the children, "The Courtship of Miles Standish," "Snow-Bound", "Little Women," part of "Evangeline," and part of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

I have tried to interest the children in the town library, and I think, nearly all of them take books from the library.

Grade VII.

History.

Recitation time, three thirty minute periods.

Montgomery's American History, pages 1-142.

We have not only studied the Explorers, the Colonizing of America, and the Permanent Settlements, but we have tried to link the past with the present by historical stories of town and state, and by comparing conditions at present with those in the past.

Special topics have been taken by different pupils and recited to class.

Reference books used.

Grade VIII.

Environment Work.

Arithmetic—Examples with newspaper advertisements and town reports.

Language—Answered invitation received from Grade V and VI at Christmas time; wrote Christmas stories for Grade I and II, also original stories for our entertainments at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Pupils wrote letters ordering our supplies for the term.

Spelling—Sides chosen in spelling, pupils choosing their captains. The side which lost planned and carried out our Thanksgiving and Christmas entertainments.

Office System.

By authority granted at the last meeting of the district committee, your Superintendent has started the installation of an office system by means of which he may attend to the constantly increasing details of school administration. A letter file, document file, two card indexes and supplies for the same have been purchased at an expense of about $45. Cards for the registration of all high school pupils have been printed and also report cards upon which the attainments of high school pupils will be sent to the Superintendent three times each year. The registration cards are examined to make certain that each pupil is entitled to attend high school at the expense of the Town and is filed for future reference. The report cards are examined and letters are written to those pupils whose marks indicate that they are making the best use of their talents and also to those who are evidently wasting a part or all of their opportunities. Nearly one hundred such letters were written during the fall term. This was made possible through the assistance of pupils in the commercial department of the Wilmington High School to whom most of the letters were dictated and by whom they were typewritten.

Supplementary promotion cards were prepared last June. The data on these cards lent assistance in arriving at a decision as to what ought to be done in cases where the question of promotion was a difficult one. These cards have been filed for reference.

A card has been prepared for use in registering the pupils in the elementary schools, so that the Superintendent may know that all children in our schools are entitled to attend and that he may have at hand data that are often needed concerning pupils in our schools. There are times when such data are almost imperative for efficient and prompt service.

A card index of all the school books in the district has been prepared so that the Superintendent knows where to find or at least where to look for surplus books that are needed elsewhere. By means of this list the unnecessary purchase of 123 books was avoided last summer. While this duplication might not have resulted in total loss, it would have served no useful purpose. The prevention of other unnecessary purchases will be made possible throughout the year.

Reports of the work that has been done by each grade in each study will be sent to me at the close of each term. These reports will follow a prescribed form and be written on special sheets of paper. By these means the reports may be filed in such a way that the work of any grade in any subject in any school in the district may be examined and compared with others with a minimum of confusion, time and effort. These reports are valuable for the use of the Superintendent and especially so for the use of a new teacher who begins work with us. The reports enable her to know what has been accomplished by her classes during the preceding year and it provides her with an outline of work that may be accomplished. These reports are, therefore, in the nature of a flexible, suggestive, growing course of study.

Conclusion.

In conclusion I wish to express my appreciation of the active efforts of the school committee in behalf of the schools and to commend the unfailing devotion of the teachers to the interests of their pupils. It has been a pleasure to work under such favorable conditions.

Respectfully submitted,

S. H. CHACE,

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MANUAL ARTS.

Mr. S. Howard Chace, Superintendent of Schools:

Dear Sir—I take pleasure in presenting this my second annual report of Manual Arts in the schools of Tyngsborough.

Practically the same general outline of work in drawing carried out last year has been followed this year with more advanced work and in each particular branch.

In the fall color was introduced in all grades. In the lower grades, colors were taught and each in turn used to fill in shapes. Through the entire year color is talked of and used a great deal to acquaint the smaller children with pleasing combinations. Color scales of hue and value were discussed and made in the upper grades and applied to landscapes and vegetable group-drawings of gray tones.

Paper cutting and construction, a most important branch of the work in teaching shape and proportion to the little people, has become more definitely the child's work, freehand cutting gradually taking the place of hectographed shapes.

Christmas work consisted of designs made and applied to make table runners, pillow tops and doilies. Candy boxes, cards and calendars were planned and decorated at this season.

Object drawing and simple rules governing it now have their place in the winter months. This branch of drawing develops the power of observation most keenly and undoubtedly is of the greatest help in positions of life for the man who has a knowledge of the principles of representation and can express his ideas graphically by means of pictures or sketches is just so much further advanced than his neighbor whose means of self-expression are limited to the oral or written word. To make the work more interesting, color is added after the rules have been taken up and correct sketches made.

Printing, good spacing, nature work and design relative to nature are planned for the remainder of the year in drawing.

Raffia is handled with more ease and surety in the third and fourth grades, resulting in better workmanship.

There is, and has been for some time, a movement through the entire country for an all-round education of head and hand. A course of manual work consisting of sewing for the girls and woodworking for the boys would be a step in this direction; it would give the child a practical demonstration of what education can accomplish by allowing a personal expression in a completed article.

At this time I would like to thank the Superintendent for his assistance and the teachers who have all ever been so willing to do their best in carrying on my work.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARET J. CARNEY,

Supervisor of Manual Arts.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC.

Mr. S. Howard Chace, Superintendent of Schools:

Dear Sir—I take pleasure in submitting to you my second annual report as Supervisor of Music in the Tewksbury District.

The first and second grades were taken together during the first term, thus giving the first grade an opportunity to get familiar with school and afforded the second grade more time for review and preparation for book work.

Much time has been given to the monotones, with good results.

Particular stress has been put on sight reading, using staff dictation for the purpose; in this way we introduce and give drill in the very frequent intervals found in Music.

The second grade is doing book work, oral and written dictation and scale work, while the first grade is doing simple diatonic work from the blackboard.

Both classes are taken together for Rote Songs.

There seems to be so much work to be done in the third and fourth grades, that I have divided the lesson plan (with the exception of scales and Rote Songs) into two parts.

One week we take staff dictation, oral and written dictation, individual reading, and the study of scale tones, while the book work comprises the following week's work. By doing this we cover more ground and the work is more thoroughly done. We have taken up the key signatures and are teaching the children to find Do from any signature. The Minor Mode will be taken later.

I have aimed for better tone in the fifth and sixth grades by opening each lesson with a vocal Drill.

We had an examination in all the Intermediate schools in the district, covering the work done during the first term. Tyngsborough stood first on the list with an average of 85.

The songs have been taken from the "Silver Song Series" and sight and part work from the Harmonic Second Reader. Some work has been done with the Individual Singing. At present we are working on chromatics, and we shall take up the Minor Mode and rhythm drills later in the year.

I felt that I should have some definite knowledge of just how much each pupil knew about the technicalities of Music as they are presented in the grammar schools, therefore, I decided to give an examination at the end of each term, covering the work done during that term, and making it a contest for all classes in the district.

These papers are passed to me for corrections. I mark them and pass them back. The pupils then has the opportunity to correct his mistakes and return the paper again. In this way the teacher and I may help those who are below the average.

We are at present working with chromatic alterations and symbols. We will take up rhythm drills and the Minor Mode and scales a little later. The three part exercises are from the Natural Music Reader and songs from the Eleanor Smith Reader.

With the kind assistance of M. Steuiert and Sons Co., of Lowell, we gave a concert last fall to aid us to put a Victor Talking Machine in the schools for Musical appreciation.

I am working on a course of study with the Victor for the grammar school in Music History and Appreciation, which will soon be ready.

Heretofore, the ideals of grammar school pupils in Music have been limited to the music they themselves could produce, thus giving a narrow field for observation.

Now the Victor, and the wonderful list of records, make it possible to present the best music, both instrumental and vocal, within the school room.

I wish to thank the teachers for their co-operation and valuable assistance.

Respectfully submitted,

MILDRED COLVILLE MALTON,

Twenty-four collections of pictures have made 131 visits to 120 places. Among the most popular sets may be mentioned the following: A Box of Apples, Misses Allen's Deerfield photographs, Southern Coast of England, Woman in Art, Pageant at Lancaster, Parrots, From Naples to Pæstum and the Prang platinettes.

The work with the foreign-born population has been extended as rapidly as possible. There are now four Polish libraries, one Italian and two French, while several others are in preparation.

FIELD WORK OF THE COMMISSION

The work of Miss Zaidee Brown, the agent of the commission, has been described in the two previous reports. This year she has continued along the same lines: visiting libraries; talking with trustees, librarians and teachers; and helping "weed out," classify and catalogue libraries. A large number of her visits are made on request from the librarian or trustees, either for general consultation or to advise on some special change that is contemplated. Often an estimate of the cost of classifying, cataloguing or installing a new charging system is wanted. In towns of less than $600,000 valuation, where the trustees wish to make such a change, the commission frequently furnishes a trained library worker for about two weeks to help in the reorganization. The only expense to the town is for room and board. In the wealthier towns, where the library is able to pay for the additional help needed, the commission sends Miss Brown for two or three days to help plan the work, and she also frequently takes charge of securing the necessary supplies, a cataloguer, and so forth. During the year Miss Brown has visited several libraries that were reorganized under the supervision of the commission. In all cases the librarians report greater ease in finding books or material on a subject, and greater convenience in the charging system. One great advantage of putting the library in good order and making a catalogue is that when it changes hands the new librarian is able to learn its resources more readily. In many cases the townspeople are asked to help in the work as volunteers. This leads to a better knowledge of the library and a keener appreciation of its value.

Besides visiting libraries to aid in their reorganization, Miss Brown has made many general visits. Conferences have been held with trustees, librarians and others about the library and its possibilities. Suggestions have been given concerning aids in book selection, work with schools, liberal rules for borrowers and the distribution of books throughout the town. A short visit has often brought about noticeable results, in many instances the trustees and librarian following up suggestions as to how the library can be made more useful. In general, active and efficient trustees realize the undeveloped possibilities of the library, and are glad to discuss methods and plans with one who brings to them the experience of other communities.

Following is a list of places visited by Miss Brown during the year: —

During the year Miss Brown has made 109 visits to 82 libraries. The visits have varied in length from a few hours to several days. She has also attended meetings of the library clubs of the State, and has spoken before women's clubs and other organizations.

Miss E. Louise Jones, formerly office secretary, has visited in a similar manner the following libraries: —

Blandford	Hull (two visits)	Spencer
Dighton	Monroe	Warren
Granby	Northborough	Wayland
Hatfield	Rowe	West Brookfield — 12.

Miss Ruth H. Townsend, the present office secretary, has visited the following libraries: —

Burlington	Oak Bluffs	Tisbury
Chatham	Plymouth	(Vineyard Haven)
Edgartown	(Manomet)	Truro
Harwich	Scituate	Wellfleet — 10.

Miss Leonora O'Herron, the commission's representative in the western part of the State, has visited the following libraries: —

Adams	Dalton	New Salem
Becket	Deerfield	Palmer
Belchertown	Erving	Peru
Charlemont	Lanesborough	Russell
Cheshire	Leverett	Sheffield
Clarksburg	Monterey	Southwick
Colrain	New Marlborough	Windsor — 21.

During the past year the commission has been especially interested in bringing the schools into closer touch with the libraries, and we have tried to arouse interest in this work. Teachers may give valuable aid to the library by stimulating and guiding the reading of the children, and may also add greatly to the interest of the prescribed school work by suggesting illustrative reading. Nearly all libraries allow teachers additional books for school use, and many keep deposits of books in the school-rooms for circulation among the children. Miss Brown has given an informal talk to the teachers in each town where she has visited, when it was possible to arrange such a meeting, showing what can be done to interest the children and asking the teachers' co-operation in suggesting books that will be helpful in their work, for purchase by the libraries. Miss O'Herron has given a little talk at the following teachers' institutes:—

Belchertown	Erving	Russell
Charlemont	Lanesborough	Southwick — 8.
Colrain	Leverett

Miss Jones gave an informal talk to the teachers at the institute at West Brookfield, and Miss Townsend at Oak Bluffs. Miss Brown spoke at Winchendon, and has also addressed the pupils at the Worcester and Westfield normal schools.

To further create interest in this work the commission has corresponded with the superintendents of schools in all towns under $1,000,000 valuation, asking their co-operation and suggestions as to how the libraries in their towns could better serve the schools. As a result, each town under $1,000,000 valuation, and not having school deposits, has been offered $25 worth of books if it would place them in the schools. The response has been very cordial and the boards of trustees have welcomed the suggestion of school deposits.

The libraries in the following towns have been catalogued with the aid of a worker sent by the commission. In some cases a new charging system was installed. Where the work took more than two or three weeks, the library paid for the additional time of the cataloguer.

NUMBER OF BOOKS ALLOWED TO EACH READER

The commission is much gratified to be able to report that all the free public libraries of the Commonwealth permit the use of at least two books to each reader at a time, with the exception of the following towns: Cummington, Enfield, Hanson and Williamstown.

CO-OPERATION IN LIBRARY WORK

The experiment of the commission in subscribing to the Berkshire Athenæum in Pittsfield for library privileges for twelve of the small towns in Berkshire County has proved gratifying in its result. Although a good many volumes of fiction have been borrowed, it is a satisfaction to note that among the libraries for which the commission subscribed, the majority of the books drawn have been non-fiction of high quality. It is hoped that this method of co-operation has proved of so great advantage to the trustees of the libraries that they themselves will continue the nominal subscription of $5 a year in the future. The commission feels justified in offering this privilege to other small towns in Berkshire County. The Williams College Library has been ready at all times to meet requests from borrowers in Berkshire County, so far as lay within its means.

The committee on co-operation between the various library clubs of the Commonwealth and the Free Public Library Commission has justified its existence and its continuation. An account of this committee, its membership and its work was contained in the twenty-third report of the Library Commission. Since last year, under the direction of its secretary, Miss Louisa M. Hooper of Brookline, the libraries of the State have been divided into small groups consisting of from three to eleven libraries in a group, with a local secretary at the head of each. Mr. Belden, the chairman of the committee, has recently sent a circular letter to the local secretaries, asking for a report on the work accomplished and enclosing the following suggestions from the secretary of the committee: —

To the Local Secretary.

In suggesting the formation of the libraries of Massachusetts into small groups with some one prominent library as a center, the committee of the Massachusetts Library Club, which is responsible for the plan, has had in mind a general improvement in library conditions to be brought about through most informal methods. While really depending on each local secretary to use his or her own judgment, the committee makes the following suggestions of what may be done to attain the desired results:—

1. Try an "open-house day" at the central library, to which send a very informal invitation. Arrange for a luncheon together if practicable. Throw open the doors and take down the fences, and make the visitors feel at home. Have a sample book laid out with the library's blank forms, — some rebound books, with name of binder, price, etc. In short, show any library notions that may be of use to your neighbor. This sort of "library day" might, of course, be combined with a "round table" in the afternoon, to which each librarian or assistant would be asked to bring questions and subjects which she wishes to be discussed. Such a meeting as this would encourage more frequent neighborhood visiting, which might in turn inspire more frequent attendance at the meetings of the various library clubs, in that two persons might persuade each other to go where one would stay at home. At any rate, the local secretary should be sure that the libraries in her group are represented at the meetings, and she should endeavor to promote the acquaintance of the librarians at such meetings.

2. Another suggestion is that the central library in the group might be called on for advice or assistance in solving any difficult problem; that in such a case the librarian or an assistant might go to give the needed help. It might even be possible for libraries to arrange an occasional exchange of assistants for a few weeks or days to promote familiarity with different methods, and to give, in general, a broader outlook to those concerned.

3. A suggestion from Connecticut that might be tried is as follows: The State Commission appointed a "library day," when the librarian in each town was asked to give an informal talk in the schools and the children were asked to come with quotations relating to books. The day brought about a splendid spirit of co-operation.

4. It would be very desirable if each local secretary should serve as a connecting link between the commission and the libraries in her group.

The results anticipated are greater efficiency of the libraries concerned through the most informal and friendly of methods.

The returns so far received from the local secretaries are most encouraging, and work of a constructive nature is being carried on in many sections of the State. Valuable suggestions have also been submitted, and the commission hopes to arrange for a meeting of the local secretaries of the State when the Massachusetts Library Club holds its annual meeting in the spring.

In Appendix V. of the report may be found an almost complete list of the local secretaries and the libraries in each group. Appendix IV. lists the advisory visitors of the commission.

WORK FOR FOREIGNERS

On March 25, 1913, the chairman sent the following letter and recommendations to Governor Foss:—

His Excellency EUGENE N. FOSS, Governor of the Commonwealth, State House, Boston, Mass.

DEAR MR. FOSS:—I beg to submit herewith recommendations from the Free Public Library Commission of Massachusetts in reference to library work with foreigners. Accompanying the recommendations is a draft of "An Act to provide for the appointment of a foreign agent or secretary by the Board of Free Public Library Commissioners, and for expenses connected therewith."

The opportunity to extend the usefulness of the commission in this direction is so apparent that we trust you may see your way to recommending to the Legislature that a field secretary, with appropriate expenses, be authorized.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES F. D. BELDEN,
Chairman.

Recommendations.—Since last fall the Free Public Library Commission has been interested in aiding libraries in work with foreigners, both by providing books and by organized efforts to introduce the library to the foreign-speaking population. Under authority of law the activities of the commission in giving direct aid are limited especially to those towns whose valuation is under $600,000. The efforts so far made by the commission relating to library work with foreigners have been received with so much enthusiasm, and so many requests have come from the larger towns and cities, that the commission feels that it should receive authority and means whereby immediate attention can be given to this important work in all sections of the Commonwealth.

The Free Public Library Commission, therefore, recommends the employment of a special field agent or secretary who can study the problems involved, select the books, co-operate with existing associations, and visit the local foreign societies in different towns, and interest the librarians, trustees, teachers, and others in the furtherance of their activities with the foreign population.

Libraries are recognized as wholly non-political and non-sectarian, and therefore have a special opportunity to welcome newcomers to this country and interest them in all that pertains to good citizenship.

Provision should also be made for occasional assistance from competent representatives of the non-English speaking races in different localities for lectures, addresses, etc., and for other incidental expenses.

CHARLES F. D. BELDEN,
Chairman.

On March 27, Governor Foss sent the following letter to the General Court: —

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, March 27, 1913.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives.

Herewith I transmit the recommendations of the Free Public Library Commission in respect to library work for foreigners.

It appears to be of the utmost importance that we should take steps toward the education of our immigrant population in order that they may understand the ideals and conditions of American life. The assimilation of our foreign population cannot proceed effectively unless they are brought into sympathy with, and given an understanding of, the aims and purposes of our democracy.

There have been many illustrations of the dangers which confront us through an increasing alien population that is out of harmony with our society and that follows blindly the lead of ignorant and vicious agitators. For the protection of society, and particularly for the protection of our laboring population, including the foreigners themselves, we must not omit any reasonable measure for the proper education and training of the foreigner who makes his home in Massachusetts.

I need not dwell upon the obvious gravity of the situation, nor do I consider the present measure in itself sufficient to meet all the requirements of the situation; but I earnestly request of the Legislature that it accord to the Free Public Library the very moderate extension which it now seeks.

EUGENE N. FOSS.

Favorable action on the part of the Legislature resulted in the following: —

ACTS OF 1913, CHAPTER 668.

AN ACT TO AUTHORIZE THE APPOINTMENT BY THE BOARD OF FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY COMMISSIONERS OF A DIRECTOR OF EDUCATIONAL WORK FOR ALIENS.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The board of free public library commissioners may, with the consent of the governor and council, appoint an agent or secretary to direct educational work for the benefit of the alien population of the commonwealth, at a salary of such amount, not exceeding two thousand dollars, as the governor and council may approve. The said agent may at any time be removed from office by a majority vote of the board. In case of a vacancy, temporary substitutes may be engaged on terms and conditions approved by the governor and council.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage. [Approved May 16, 1913.]

Massachusetts is to be congratulated on having secured for the position of secretary to direct educational work for the benefit of the alien population of the Commonwealth, Miss J. Maud Campbell, lately social agent of the Boston Dwelling House Association at Forest Hills. Miss Campbell has had ten years' experience in library work, seven as librarian of the Passaic Public Library, which served a large foreign population. In 1906 she was appointed by Governor Stokes as a member of the New Jersey Immigration Commission which investigated and reported on the condition of the immigrants coming into and residing in the State. The commission's report resulted in the appropriation of State funds for the establishment of evening classes for foreign-speaking people, with a view to training them for intelligent citizenship. Miss Campbell left the Passaic library to become educational secretary of the New York and New Jersey division of the North American Civic League for Immigrants.

Miss Campbell's work with this philanthropic organization brought her closely in touch with the native and foreign leaders in welfare work for aliens, as well as with the educational authorities of the State. She organized schools for adults in the labor camps of the contractors constructing the new New York city aqueduct, and arranged for lectures on hygiene, history, civics, etc., which in connection with a stereopticon and moving-picture machine provided both instruction and recreation for the immigrant workers. In New York city, experimental classes were conducted for adult immigrants during the summer months, when the arrival of newcomers is greatest, and afternoon classes for those whose occupation prevented their attending the evening schools, which have since been adopted by the Board of Education as part of the general school plan. Miss Campbell prepared school material in English and foreign languages especially suited to the foreign workmen and their occupation, and pamphlets in regard to naturalization and immigrant women, which received favorable comment in the foreign press.

As educational director, Miss Campbell has taken hold of her work with enthusiastic interest. It was first necessary to find out where the foreign colonies were located, or of what nationalities they consisted, and how the libraries in the different localities were equipped to serve their alien population. Visits were made to Springfield, Worcester and Northampton, where, through the courtesy of the libraries, conferences were held with the leaders of the different nationalities and others interested in the welfare of the aliens. In every instance the reception was most cordial, the foreign leaders being unanimous in the opinion that libraries could serve the greatest educational need of the adult alien in assisting him to acquire a knowledge of the English language and such information as is to be found in his own language on the opportunities, laws and all that pertains to good citizenship in this country. Assistance was freely offered the commission, both by advising the foreign-speaking people of the benefits they would derive from using the libraries and by recommending suitable material to be found in their own tongues.

Librarians have been equally helpful in reporting a knowledge of the foreign-speaking element in their midst, and while complete statistics have not been obtained, or the statement made verified, 99 libraries reported having a foreign population in their town, the numbers varying from "just a few" to such statements as, "twenty-seven different nationalities" and "half the town Slavic." Sixty-one libraries reported having some books in foreign languages, and 38 reported a foreign population, but no books other than English for their use. From the figures obtained, it would seem that the French, German and Norwegian people have been more or less provided for; but there is need of books for colonies of Armenians, Finns, Greeks, Hebrews, Italians, Lithuanians, Poles, Portuguese and Swedes. The number of places reporting colonies of Albanians, Bohemians, Danes, Dutch, Russians and Slovenians are few. There was no report of Spaniards in Massachusetts, either from libraries or in the federal census of 1910, but 7 libraries reported collections of books in Spanish, acquired doubtless for their literary and educational value.

That the efforts of some libraries to help their foreign-speaking people have been appreciated was shown in the statements of the librarians, such as, "Our work for the Greeks has been most encouraging." "The circulation of the Polish books has increased greatly." "All the Polish books were taken out immediately. It would take 2,000 to supply the present demand."

Largely through the kindness of friends, in either supplying the books or the funds to buy them, the commission was able to lend to the smaller communities 19 traveling libraries in the following languages: French, Italian and Polish. This has exhausted the present available supply. These traveling libraries consisted of a few books for the use of foreigners in learning English, a dictionary of English and the foreign tongue, histories of the United States, a book on citizenship and information about the country, laws, sanitary requirements, etc., in the language of the nationality when it could be obtained, as well as a few volumes of their native writers with an English translation if available. Funds are needed in order that the commission may extend this work. Ninety libraries stated they would like to endeavor to reach their foreign-speaking population, if the commission could lend them enough books to make the experiment. The following shows the attitude of a number of librarians:—

Are there any libraries available in other languages? We have calls for Dutch, Lithuanian and Armenian books. . . . It seems to me that this is a burden that the State should assume, for many of the foreigners wander from place to place, are often discharged when work is slack, and it is hard for the libraries in the small manufacturing towns to give them the help that they need, for their funds hardly suffice to keep up with the demands of those who read English.

The commission is deeply grateful for the prompt and generous assistance it has received from the Dante Alighieri Society. The Boston branch, through its president, Dr. Brindisi, offered advice in selecting Italian books, presented a small collection from its own library, and also secured a gift of over 200 volumes from the parent society in Rome. The commission also wishes to acknowledge the kind assistance of Miss Amy A. Bernardy, a member of the society and emigration commissioner for the Italian government, in supplying information about Italian literature and book-dealers which will be of great value in selecting books for her countrymen. This kindly spirit of interest and co-operation means much more to the commission than the money value of the books it has received, and sets an example many other national and patriotic societies might well follow.

Assistance has also been received from the Colonial Dames and Circolo Italiano in supplying libraries in foreign languages, which have been circulated by the Woman's Education Association.

It is a little too soon to speak of results from this new department of the commission's work, but a few of the questions to which it has already made replies will show the nature of the work it will have to do:—

Please recommend a good book for Poles to use to learn English.

We can only spend $10; what are the best Italian books to buy?

We are going to put in some books for the Greeks and Italians working here; please send us lists of good books in these languages.

What is the best French magazine to purchase for a high school library?

Send us a list of Portuguese books.

We want a list of Swedish books.

Please send me titles of books suitable for Italians to learn English.

I would like the names of dealers who can supply books for the Syrians.

Titles of books in modern Greek with notes about them.

Names of some books on hygiene in Lithuanian.

Can you send us a list of interesting books on immigration for a woman's study club?

Miss Campbell has visited 25 libraries and spoken at six meetings in the furtherance of this work.

The commission again has pleasure in calling the attention of librarians, and all others interested in the work with people of alien birth, to the "Immigrant's Guide to the United States." This little green guide is a very useful interpreter between the librarian and our foreign-born who speak no

English, for it is accessible in English to the librarian, and can be read in his own Italian or Polish or Yiddish by the new-comer. It is a guide to the opportunities offered by our country to the immigrant, — opportunities of self-improvement, economic as well as educational.

The chapters on learning English, the educational advantages in this country, the history and government and the agricultural opportunities are very suggestive for help, while a world of suffering and trouble would be saved the immigrants if they knew the prohibitions and provisions contained in the chapters of our laws.

A half hour's reading of the English edition of the guide will give the librarian a comprehensive idea of its purpose and possibilities, and be fruitful in suggestions for its effective use. An index has now been prepared, by which it is possible to find at once for a foreigner's help any desired paragraph in any of the editions.

The guide is a useful book to send, through the children, to parents who speak no English, — a friendly hint and invitation which many will accept. In some libraries its use has been increased by placing it on sale at the delivery desk.

The commission will be glad to present copies of this guide in limited numbers to the smaller libraries, while the larger libraries can secure copies from the international committee of the Twentieth Century Club, 3 Joy Street, Boston, or from the Immigrant Education Society, 241 Fifth Avenue, New York City, for 15 cents in paper and 30 cents bound in cloth.

Equally valuable is an attractive booklet prepared by Mrs. Belle Israels for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, entitled, "The child," which is especially written for the foreign mother and home-maker. It gives instruction in a simple manner on the care of the home, the household utensils; cautions about flies, mosquitoes, disinfection and sanitation; as well as most explicit directions on the care of children in this climate, their diet and clothing from infancy to school age; with simple advice in cases of accident and illness. It has been translated into French, German, Italian, Polish and Yiddish; and may be procured, free of charge, from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, 1 Madison Avenue, New York City, or through their local agent. It is almost the only attractive book to offer immigrant women when they are struggling to reach our standard of living.

The American National Red Cross have considered the large increase of the foreign speaking in "the industrial army of the United States," to which it dedicates its "Abridged Text-book on First Aid," by printing this useful book in Italian, Polish, Lithuanian and Slovenian. The information to be acquired from it might be of inestimable value in case of accident, when prompt aid might mean the saving of life or limb, and sick or death benefits. The importance of learning how to prevent accidents is wisely emphasized. The book may be purchased in the languages named from Blakiston's Son & Co., Philadelphia, Pa., at 30 cents a copy.

The societies issuing the above-mentioned books do not look for any financial profit from their distribution.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Owing to the increased activities of the Board of Free Public Library Commissioners and the general interest in the same in Massachusetts and other States, there has been an unusual demand for its reports. During the past two years the request for reports has been so great that it has not been possible to comply with the same, as the available copies have been so limited. The Board recommends that an increase of 500 be made to the edition of 2,000 now published, and that 1,200 copies of the edition shall be made available for distribution by the commissioners.

In many sections of the State it would be a great convenience if citizens of one town had the right to borrow books from the library of an adjoining town. It is not infrequently the case that a person in a country district lives nearer to the library in an adjoining town than he does to the library in his own town. The Free Public Library Commissioners recommend legislation permitting the use of libraries by non-residents and citizens of other towns on such terms and conditions as the trustees of the lending library may in reason prescribe.

The State Board of Education has been in sympathy with the endeavor of the commission to further co-operation between the schools and the libraries. The school superintendents throughout the State have eagerly lent their counsel and aid; and, with the consent of the library trustees, library collections of reference and children's books have been placed in 62 schools during the past year for the benefit of both children and teachers. To encourage this co-operation the commission has sent small collections of books to the public libraries to form a nucleus for such school deposits.

An increased appropriation for direct aid will enable the commission to extend this form of co-operation and also to make real progress in its work for the aliens in the State, who now comprise one-third of its inhabitants. Last year, when the Legislature gave the commission authority to appoint an educational director for work with the aliens, not only was the authorized salary for the director inadequate, but no provision was made for any expenses connected with the same. The need for this work, the enthusiasm with which it is hailed, has been described in the current report of the library commission.

Under existing legislation, direct aid is now granted to towns with a valuation of less than $600,000. There are few libraries in towns with a valuation of less than $1,000,000 which can, unaided, make adequate provision either for school work or for a foreign-speaking population; and there are towns above that valuation where the tax rate is already so high that no increased appropriation for the library can be expected, and where the needs of the younger members of the community and of newcomers from foreign lands cannot be met without injustice to the adult native population using the library. Not only are books important for such towns, but their libraries are urgently in need of advice and assistance, in order to make good the resources which they now possess.

Experience has convinced the commission that so far as both schools and foreigners are concerned the benefit of such aid would be even greater in many towns which, with a somewhat larger valuation, have also a much larger population. These towns have often a number of schools at a considerable distance from the central library, each one of which contains as many children as some of the smaller towns now aided. During the past year many requests have come to the commission from superintendents of schools and teachers for assistance in enabling the libraries in such towns to supply books for children which they are unable to purchase from their own funds. This need is especially great in the country towns with children of foreign birth.

That the activity of the field agent and other commission workers has borne fruitful results is evidenced by the reports of the trustees and librarians of the libraries that have received visits and aid from the commission. The results comprise increased circulation of books, better and more liberal administration, including a more careful selection of books, simplified methods of shelving and of keeping track of the library's collections, longer hours of opening, more liberal rules in lending, etc. So important has the field work become, and so urgent is the need of encouraging this phase of the commission work, that the commission asks increased appropriations to carry it on and legislative authority to extend its activities in all legitimate ways to libraries in towns of $1,000,000 valuation or over, as in the judgment of the commission shall seem advisable.

An enlarged appropriation for clerical services and other expenses will enable the commission to secure additional help, not only for its increased office work, but to obtain "local aid" from competent people in various sections of the Commonwealth. This "local aid" for the regular commission work might consist in obtaining the services of some trained librarian, who is now giving only part time to regular library work, to visit and work for the commission in neighboring towns. The advantages of such a plan are obvious. The local agent would know persons and communities, would be able to keep track of a certain specified district, and would carry out the directions of the commission under its authority. In this way, aid could be efficiently given to the small library where the librarian is untrained, and secure, in small measure at least, expert administration. With over 400 libraries, more direct and frequent service is demanded than the commission can now give with one field agent.

The commission, therefore, in order to extend its direct aid to libraries, to increase the co-operation between libraries and schools, to further its work with the population of foreign birth, and to provide for increased office and other expenses, including outside "local aid," recommends increases in its appropriations.

Report of Trustees of Littlefield Library

To the Citizens of the Town of Tyngsborough:—

Outside of the regular routine work, nothing of especial importance has come up the past year, a few minor repairs have been made on the building. The shrubbery was put in shape last spring, adding very much to the attractiveness of the grounds and building. We wish to commend our Librarian for her courtesy and painstaking manner in which she has performed her duties.

Appended hereto will be found the reports of the Librarian and Treasurer.

In behalf of the Trustees,

FRED A. COBURN,

Chairman.

Report of School Committee

TO THE CITIZENS OF TYNGSBORO,

Following you will find reports concerning Winslow School for year ending December 31, 1914:

We desire to call your attention most urgently to the importance of more school room. If the total enrollment (161) had continued to attend, we should have been in serious trouble this year, but fortunately it has diminished to 141—20 more than last year—and the present school census shows another large increase. If no action is taken toward providing more room, the only solution seems to be to raise the age limit from five (5) to six (6) years, which, if done, will only afford temporary relief.

Another matter which seems important to your Committee and recommended by both Mr. Randall, Superintendent, and Dr. Lambert, School Physician, is adjustable chairs and desks. You have only to make an inspection of the school when in session to observe the importance of this recommendation.

The present School Banking System is admirably handled by the Lowell Institution for Savings and has the support and co-operation of the school patrons. It not only teaches the child thrift, but in the grammar grades broadens his mind by the knowledge gained of how business is conducted in banking institutions.

During the summer vacation, the ceilings and walls of the Winslow School were painted, desks and chairs varnished, floors oiled, making a much more sanitary and cheerful looking interior.

Respectfully submitted,

BERTRAND R. CURRIER,

Chairman.

School Superintendent's Report

*To the School Committee of Tyngsboro,
Miss Brown and Gentlemen:—*

I herewith submit my second annual report which is the twenty-fourth in the series of superintendents' reports.

In spite of several changes your schools have had a successful year. The number of pupils is constantly increasing. Your teachers are doing commendable work. Your pupils both in the grades and in the high schools are maintaining a creditable standing.

In this report I shall mention whatever in school work is new or has been strengthened this past year, making recommendations for what in my opinion will improve your schools.

Teachers. Three of your teachers left at the close of the last school year—Miss Knowlton, Miss Buck, and Miss Malton.

Miss Carrie Knowlton, the efficient principal of the building, resigned to accept what she considered a more advantageous offer from Beverly. She was an excellent upper grade teacher, a strong principal and manager of the building. I wish her a deserved success. Miss Mildred Buck resigned her position which she had held for several years as teacher of the intermediate school to be married. She had managed her school wisely, and took with her the best wishes of many friends.

Miss Mildred C. Malton, for several years supervisor of music for the district, resigned in July to accept a similar position in the Barre district. Miss Malton was a hard-working, devoted, ambitious teacher. The district was sorry to lose her services. It is with regret that I hear that she has been obliged to resign her position on account of poor health.

Miss Gladys Gerry of Sutton, educated at Jackson College, with one year's experience in grades seven and eight, was elected principal of the building. Miss Gerry had strong recommendations from her former superintendent and from the office of the State Board of Education. I have personally seen the record of her standing at college. She is hard-working, ambitious, and eager to learn the best methods. I believe that she will prove a success in her position.

Miss Helen Mansfield, teacher of grades 1 and 2 last year, was promoted to the school formerly taught by Miss Buck. I believe that Miss Mansfield is better adapted for these grades, and that the change was a wise one. Miss Grace Cochrane, a graduate of Provincial Normal School, New Brunswick, was selected as teacher of the primary room. Miss Cochrane soon became accustomed to the Massachusetts methods and is now doing excellent work.

Miss Evelyn B. Waite, the new supervisor of music, has a fine record as a student. She is as yet without experience save for this half year, she gives promise of making a successful supervisor.

Primary School. There has been a steady increase in the number of pupils attending your schools. The rooms are smaller than are usually found in modern school buildings, evidently built when the demands were less. Especially is this true of the primary room this year. While the total number of pupils enrolled, 51, is not larger than can be found in several primary schools in the district, and the average enrollment of 45 can be cared for by one teacher, and the present enrollment of 41 (see table of statistics,) is not too large for a single two grade room; yet, when on account of the small size of the room the aisles are narrowed and all available space is taken, as at present, a situation is created which demands attention in the near future.

A small relief was sought by asking the parents of the first grade children to allow them to be sent home at the forenoon and afternoon recesses. This plan was only a partial success as there are but few children in that grade who do not ride by barge or by trolley. It seems to me necessary to take steps tending toward the permanent relief of the overcrowded condition of this school. This can be done by building a new school building at Wood's Corner or by making additions to the Winslow school.

Mr. Fred Coburn and I gave the matter some attention this last fall and canvassed that district. To me the latter plan, that of enlarging the central building, seems the wisest. There were not as many pupils who came from that locality as I had expected, sixteen at the time of our investigation. The method of transportation, by trolley, is the best (when the conductors keep the children in a fair semblance of order) and cheapest known,—five cents per day for each pupil. Furthermore, there is no doubt that we can furnish better school training in the central building.

Therefore, I recommend that you consider in your appropriations the apparent necessity of making an addition, or enlargement to the building another summer.

It will be somewhat of a relief in the primary school if the age of entering school be increased to five and one-half or six years. Each year in nearly all communities several children are sent to school just as soon as they are five years old, in too many cases because the parent wishes them cared for at school. Indeed, I have sent home several children this last fall who were only four. These immature children very rarely do enough work to be promoted at the end of the year, but are obliged to repeat the first grade. The parents often explain that they do not expect the child to pass the grade but would like to have him "get accustomed to going to school so that he will do better work next year." The burdens upon the teacher are so many that she should not be expected to care for these under-age pupils. I recently heard an agent of the State Board of Education ask a candidate for a superintendent's certificate, how he would account for the fact that "Division C," the lowest of Grade 1, in a certain school had covered but a few pages in the primer. The gentleman pondered a moment and then replied, "I should say that they began to go to school too early."

I recommend that the age limit for entering your first grade be raised. By doing so it is possible that the proposed repairs on the building may be postponed one or two years.

Noon Intermission. A large proportion of your pupils come by barge or trolley and are obliged to carry their dinners, consequently the noon recess has been shortened in order that the children might reach home earlier in the afternoon. While I recognize the spirit which in the past prompted this arrangement, and dislike to interfere with local customs, yet I believe that an hour should be given between the forenoon and the afternoon sessions. The short time now given is insufficient to allow rest from the fatigue of the forenoon session. I know of no other town in the state where less than an hour is given, but I do know of many where one-and-a-half hours are allowed and several where two hours at noon intermission are given. I feel sure that if anyone will make a short study of this matter he will agree with me that an hour's nooning is a conservative time allotment. I recommend the increase of the noon period to one hour, closing the afternoon session one-half hour later, beginning with the spring term.

Banking. The present school banking system carried on with the Lowell Institution for Savings has been in operation one year. The total deposits for that time have been $129.54. This system not only encourages thrift but teaches some simple business customs, as the child makes his own deposits in as business-like a manner as though he went to the bank.

Graduation. On the afternoon of June 17, 1914, very pleasant graduation exercises were held in the town hall. Maud Gertrude Collier, Edwin Maurice DeCarteret, Evelyn May Fuller, Margaret Louise Hoagland, Dorothy Susan Lorman, Mendell Augustus Reed, and Florence Martha Cobleigh received grammar school diplomas.

Exhibit. In June an exhibit of drawing and hand work was held at the school building under the direction of Miss Carney and the teachers. Some form of work was shown from every pupil in school. It was very good and reflected great credit upon Miss Carney. While this exhibit was seen by many, yet it merited greater patronage. I hope that it will become an annual event and that it will be held in the town hall. It is a good way of showing the public one phase of school work and furnishes an excellent incentive to pupils, teachers, and supervisor throughout the year.

School Grounds. I know of no school so beautifully located as the Winslow building, removed a short distance from the town, and from the street, crowning the summit of a considerable elevation, with the Merrimack in the immediate foreground,—it has always appealed to me as fulfilling the words, "beautiful for situation." With ample room for a playground at the rear of the building it needed nothing more to compare favorably with any school ground of my acquaintance, but when was added to these good qualities the attractive park across the little valley it became one of the choice bits of artistic landscape. A beginning was made last spring to clear away the undergrowth and dead wood on the hill and fit up an attractive park. The children took hold of this and accomplished much, yet there is much to be done. Mr. Clarence Weed of the Normal School spent two afternoons here, and promised his aid for the coming spring to help the children to set out shrubbery and start flower beds which will add greatly to the attraction of nature. Your former chairman, Rev. N. S. Hoagland, took a great interest in the undertaking, indeed he was responsible for it.

It seems to me that when nature and the wisdom of the forefathers who selected this site have done so much for us that we should take a civic pride in beautifying our school grounds, and surroundings. The children can do much, but it is a large task for them, they need the encouragement of their elders.

The walks should be put in better condition, and the lawn in front beautified. Then the park in the rear already mentioned should be made a spot to be used, not alone by the children, but by the townspeople as well and be a source of joy and pride to all. I know of a park, slightly larger but not more beautiful and at a distance of a mile from the community center, that one Massachusetts town is taking great pride in and sending visitors to it as to one of the choice spots of the town. Yours is ready to hand.

Home Gardens. During the spring term a large amount of seed from the state college was distributed to the pupils and they were encouraged to plant and cultivate in their home gardens with the idea of making an exhibit at the Middlesex North fair. But few of the pupils from Tyngsboro made entries at this fair which was held at Dracut. I hope next spring to again distribute seed with the plan of holding a local fair at which all children can exhibit, and can also see the results of others' efforts.

Manual Training. Manual Training in its broadest sense is every form of drawing or hand training including penmanship, but in the common usage it applies to wood work for the boys and sewing for the girls. Sewing has been taught in two towns of the district for over a year, and has now passed the experimental stage. Wilmington and Tewksbury have decided this form of education is worth while.

For a town the size of Tyngsboro to teach sewing to the girls of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades will cost approximately $100 for the first year, and less than that after the first year.

I recommend that such appropriation be considered as will enable you to introduce sewing for the girls of the upper grades.

Adjustable Seats. I think that no new building has been occupied within the last ten years without being equipped with adjustable desks and seats, a part of every school plant now generally admitted to be necessary for the best growth and health of the child. It is of course equally important that a building not newly built should be equipped with modern desks. I have noticed within the past weeks several of your pupils who were seated in chairs and at desks either too small or too large for them. I recommend that you attempt to equip each year at least half a room, with adjustable chairs and desks, beginning with the primary room.

Conclusion. In conclusion let me again ask the co-operation of parents, they may do much for the schools by keeping the attendance good, by visiting the schools and by consulting with teachers, and also by encouraging the pupils of the upper grades to do a certain amount of home-study.

I wish to say that I approve of the recommendation of the School Physician in the report of last year in regard to dental care for the children.

I would like also to refer you to my report of last year on "ventilation," page 61. Let me call your attention to the growth in number of pupils as shown by the Table of Statistics, also the high per cent. of attendance.

Please give careful consideration to the sub-reports which follow and form a part of this report.

I wish at this time to express my appreciation for the co-operation of teachers and supervisors, and for the constant, un-failing support of the school board.

Respectfully submitted,

C. L. RANDALL.

Supervisor of Drawing

MR. CHARLES L. RANDALL, SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS,

DEAR SIR:—

It is with great pleasure that I present this, my fourth annual report of the work in Drawing and Manual Arts in the Tyngsboro Schools.

The usual steps in the drawing course have been followed in all of the grades as in other years but with additional results. It is only natural to expect advancement in the upper grades but it is most encouraging to note the improved results in the lower grades as well.

The work of the lower grades includes color, drawing of familiar shapes in fruits, vegetables, landscapes, articles of dress and things pertaining to the home, action drawing and simple design. The work of the upper grades includes color, nature specimens, trees and landscapes, model drawing, printing, spacing and design. Printing spacing and design are applied several times during the year in the holiday work in the making of cards, calendars, boxes and picture frames. Dress harmony and interior decoration are to be taken up this year for advanced color work. These two branches of the subject are strongest in encouraging appreciation of the beautiful and good taste in selection.

The manual work of the lower grades includes paper cutting, furniture construction and raffia work,—of the upper grades, cardboard construction of frames and candle shades and basketry.

In June an exhibition of manual arts was held in the Winslow School. In no better way may an idea of the work done in this department be given to the community. Plans are being made for an exhibition of this year's work which we trust will be attended with more interest and enthusiasm than was displayed by parents and friends last year.

The success in this department I credit in great measure to the cordial co-operation of the teachers and wish to take this occasion to thank both Superintendent and teachers for their most generous assistance in my work.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARET J. CARNEY,

Supervisor of Drawing.

Report of Supervisor of Music

MR. CHARLES L. RANDALL, SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS,

DEAR SIR:—

I am glad to present this my first report as Supervisor of Music in the schools of Tyngsboro.

In my work I endeavor, first of all, to teach the children to love good music. I know of no worthier ambition. There are children who never hear music in their homes; were it not brought to them in the school room they would never be able to enjoy the pleasure which music brings. Music is the one study in the curriculum through which a child can give expression to the things he feels.

It is not only small children who find music a recreation and a relaxation. There are very few people, I think, with whom the hum-drum of every-day existence can not be brightened and cheered by music, this universal pleasure.

For this season, and for others which I shall mention later, I endeavor to teach those in the primary grades all the rote songs possible, the words of these songs to be within their comprehension, and to be sung with proper expression and good tone quality. These rote songs bring the child into vital contact with the art of music. Through them a child receives training,—unconscious though it may be,—in ear, voice, memory, melody, rhythm, emotion, and interpretation. Because of these values rote songs should have an important place in the work of the first three grades. Inasmuch as these songs give no training in the reading of music, this part of the education is also begun in the primary grades, and through the intermediate grades the melodies and time problems are gradually made more difficult. There is much instruction in individual singing, also, because this demands independent tone-thinking. Constant concert work causes a product of 20 to 25 per cent. of good singers, whereas proper individual singing will result in a product of 90 to 95 per cent. good singers. Individual singing requires quick thinking, and intense concentration, and establishes habits of accuracy.

With this technical work there are songs which are studied for the purpose of giving them proper interpretation,—thus continuing the work in music appreciation begun in the primary grades.

I believe that in the upper grades music should hold a very important place in the curriculum, for the educational values of this subject are great. No other subject, except, perhaps, oral arithmetic, has to be accomplished within a specified amount of time; no other subject requires quicker reasoning,—a note may be one of twelve things in tune. For these and other reasons music is a subject demanding keen mental ability.

In my work I have received help from Mr. Albert Edmund Brown, and have consulted him about certain phases of the work, the underlying principles of which are exactly like those used in the Lowell Normal School.

I wish to thank the teachers with whom I am working for their hearty and helpful co-operation; also I desire to thank you, Mr. Randall, for the assistance you have rendered me during these first four months of my supervising.

Respectfully submitted,

EVELYN BUCKINGHAM WAITE,

Supervisor of Music.

Report of School Physician

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF TYNGSBORO,—

I herewith submit a report of my seventh year's work as School Physician.

At the regular annual examination during the first week of school 152 children were carefully tested for defects which would interfere with their education or prove dangerous to others.

The conditions found and the number affected were: acne 2, decayed teeth 78, defective ears 7, defective eyes 19, diseased tonsils 33, eczema 2, herpes 1, impetigo contagiosa 1, ozena 1, pediculosis 19, unvaccinated 19.

In all cases parents have been notified and urged to have the conditions remedied and the results are encouraging.

As in former years, November 1st, was set as the limit when unvaccinated children might attend school, and by this time all but three had complied with the law. These three presented certificates of exemption and were excused.

The recommendation made last year is again urged, that parents intending to send children to school in September have them vaccinated during the summer if it has not already been done.

It would also save a good deal of trouble if parents would have their childrens' teeth examined and treated by a reliable dentist during vacation.

Decayed teeth appear to be concerned in causing diseased tonsils, and diseased tonsils undoubtedly furnish an easy entrance for germs of many diseases. Therefore school children should be very faithful in the use of the tooth brush.

It is equally important that children should be sent to school each morning with clean hands and face, and clean scalp and hair. Lice would never appear under such conditions.

Another way in which parents should help in keeping the school in good condition, is by reporting at once to the teachers, any sickness in the family of a contagious nature, such as scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles, mumps, whooping cough or chicken pox.

Co-operation is also asked in having children with defective eyesight and hearing sent to a competent specialist for treatment.

Finally more care is urged upon parents in providing suitable lunches of simple nourishing food for the noon meal.

An inspection of lunches at the school shows too much pie, cake, and doughnuts, and too little bread and butter, eggs and meat.

The addition of hot cocoa, provided possibly by a cooking class, to the lunch would be of decided value during cold weather.

It is to be hoped that more care will be taken in the future, that a sufficient supply of clean towels is always ready when needed, for an empty towel rack does not encourage cleanliness.

It is to be hoped that the school house may soon be wired for electric lights and that arrangements be made for electricity on dark days. Also that electric fans can be arranged to do the work now done by the ventilating furnace, which is only partially successful in ridding the rooms of foul air.

The plan of running an open air school, as suggested last year, was tried during the fall term with much satisfaction and benefit to teachers and pupils alike.

The overcrowded condition of some of the rooms at the opening of school was luckily solved for the year by a reduction in attendance but eventually the problem must be met in a more permanent way. It is therefore urged that the school house be enlarged at an early date.

When this is done, I hope to see more windows in each room and modern adjustable seats and desks replace those now in use.

Respectfully submitted,

F. D. LAMBERT, M. D.,
School Physician.

HARRY L. LITTLEHALE,

Treasurer.

To the Citizens of Tyngsborough :

The Trustees of the Littlefield Library call your attention to the main things accomplished during the past year. A gift of 57 children's books have been graciously donated to the Library by the Mass. Library Commission, thus enlarging the children's department. Some new agricultural books have been purchased : ask the Librarian to show them to you ; now is the time to read them, when you are making your plans for this year's work. Some much needed repairs have been done on the building. It is the intention of the Trustees to purchase books every two months, beginning April 1st, and they earnestly request any one wishing some special book to be placed on the shelves to let the Librarian know so that she may place it on her list of other books to be approved. In the early part of the past year the Trustees gave the Librarian a much deserved increase in her salary (see Treasurer's Report).

Respectfully submitted,

W. E. BARRY,

Tax Collector.

Report of Cemetery Commissioners.

All of the Cemeteries in the Town have received their usual care of grounds. And the Perpetual Care Lots have had more spent on them than usual; some have been spaded over and dressing put on them and re-seeded down again, and quite a needed improvement has been added to the Sherburne Cemetery by putting in water, by the kindness of Mr. S. F. Spindell, by allowing the Cemetery Commissioners to put a pump into the spring on the other side of the road from the Cemetery and so force the water up into the yard. For financial part of account see Auditor's report.

JESSE B. BUTTERFIELD,

FRED K. SINCLAIR,

OTIS L. WRIGHT,

Cemetery Commissioners.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

This is to certify that I have examined the various accounts as given in this report and find them properly vouched and correctly cast.

NORMAN R. SHERBURNE,
Auditor.

To the Citizens of Tyngsboro:

Herewith is presented the reports which follow concerning the schools for the year ending December 31, 1913. The Supervisors of Manual Art and Music tell in a concise and interesting manner of the character and scope of the work in their respective departments. The new Superintendent, Mr. Charles L. Randall, covers the work as a whole, describing present educational activities and ideals. A new feature is "The Honor List. To the pupils it will prove an incentive to regularity of attendance. A suggestion which to the Committee seems of considerable importance is that in regard to certain structural changes in the Winslow building, with reference to ventilation and incidentally providing for more hall room. Members of the Committee, some of whom have carefully explored and examined the present arrangements, have independently arrived at the same conclusion, namely, that a change is desirable. The suggestion in regard to home garden work and prizes for the best products, the same to be exhibited at a fair in co-operation with the local grange is commendable. While there may be honest differences of opinion in regard to some of the suggestions or plans proposed the educational creed in which Mr. Randall affirms his faith, and by which he shapes his working program, is one to which we can all subscribe.

The proposition in regard to a Parents' Association is a practical measure for fuller co-operation with the teachers for greater efficiency in doing the work for which the schools are maintained, namely, training for better citizenship and best life. The cost of maintaining the schools for the year is in round numbers $6,600.00, about one-half of which is borne by the town. No money is voted more readily than for this purpose. But full co-operation on the part of every citizen and especially every patron is needed for fullest efficiency.

Respectfully submitted,

NAPOLEON S. HOAGLAND,

Chairman.

REPORT OF SCHOOL PHYSICIAN.

To the School Committee of Tyngsboro:—

I herewith submit a report of my work as School Physician for the past year.

As a result of the regular examinations at the opening of the school in September the following conditions were found:—

Total number of Children Examined	125
Adenoids	2
Defective Eyesight	16
Defective Hearing	6
Defective Teeth	62
Enlarged Tonsils	16
Ozena	2
Poor Nutrition	2
Vaccination:
Yes	119
No	6
a. Unsuccessful	1
b. Excused	5

During the year there have been no serious interruptions in attendance from epidemic disease, but the following contagious skin diseases were found and excluded until cured:

Impetigo Contagiosa	3
Pediculosis	19
Varicella	2

It is recommended that all children approaching school age, should be vaccinated during the summer preceding their first attendance, if this has not already been done.

In order to make the work of medical inspection in the school more effective, it is believed that the services of a school nurse should be secured to visit the homes of the pupils, and show the parents how they may best carry out the recommendations for their children. It is probable that an economical arrangement could be made with the other towns in our school district, so that one nurse might serve for all.

In view of the continued prevalence of defective teeth among our school children, in spite of six years' of trial of the simple notification method, it would seem wise to adopt a more efficient way of correcting the trouble.

This could be done by securing the services of the Lowell School Dental Clinic, for our pupils, or by holding a dental clinic here for a few days each term.

Considerable difficulty is experienced at the school in maintaining a proper supply of pure air in the different rooms, especially in damp weather. This is due largely to the sluggish movement of the foul air currents in the ventilating shafts, which may be obviated to some extent by a regular use during school sessions of the ventilating furnace.

The ventilating furnace is an integral and important part of the heating and ventilating system, and uniform results cannot be obtained without it, except by the use of electric exhaust fans. Such fans would secure even better results than the ventilating furnace and are to be recommended when daytime electric power is provided to the village. In the meantime it is to be hoped that the old system will be utilized to give its best results.

In conclusion, I wish to call attention to the growing popularity and increasing need of the open air school. Wherever it has been tried, it has not only vastly improved the health of the school children but increased their learning capacity as well.

With the best interests of the children at heart, I therefore advocate the establishment of at least a part of the Winslow School on the open air basis.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERICK D. LAMBERT, M. D.

School Physician.

School Superintendent's Report.

RESOLVED:

That Mr. S. Howard Chace whose exceptional services during the past seven years has won the approval of all who have been associated with him, is entitled to the highest commendation, and goes to his new work with their grateful appreciation and cordial good wishes.

LOWELL, MASS., Feb. 2, 1914.

To the School Committee of Tyngsboro,

MISS BROWN AND GENTLEMEN:—

I herewith submit my first annual report which is the twenty-third in the series of superintendents' reports.

It seems to me fitting at this time to express my appreciation of the uniformly good work of my predecessor, Mr. S. Howard Chace. I pay him as high a compliment as one can pay a superintendent when I say, that I found the schools in excellent condition with an exceptionally competent corps of teachers who are already giving me loyal co-operation.

Your schools are then today in good condition, your buildings in good repair, and your supplies ample.

There has been but one change among the teachers this year, Miss Helen Mansfield is placed in the primary room where she is doing very acceptable work.

In this report I shall endeavor to point out whatever may be new within the year, whatever features may have been strengthened, and also to indicate our ideals for the future.

A CREED

I wish at the time of making this, my first report, to state my educational creed.

I am old fashioned enough to believe in making the essential studies very important and thoroughly fixing them in mind.

I believe in the "3 R's," Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic as the foundation of all education; "he that climeth up some other way, the same is a pilferer."

I believe that they should be taught more efficiently and fixed more lastingly than in the "good old days."

I believe in spelling, both oral and written, even in the "spelling match."

I believe in grammar as a tool, a measure, to be to the mind of the pupil and teacher what the twenty-four inch gauge is to the hand of the workman.

I believe in good scholarship for those who are able to attain it, both in the grades and in the high school.

I believe in some systematic home study in the upper grades and in the high school, pupils are not overworked in our schools today.

I believe that the new studies, so-called, have no place in any school system, till such time as teachers and pupils have this old-time and long-enduring platform, embraced in the above creed, to stand upon.

But having secured this platform then I believe in the modern subjects.

I believe in industrial studies in the schools, gardening, manual training, sewing, basketry, lunch-serving, etc.

I believe in the cultural subjects music, drawing, nature study, etc.

I believe in community activities; in the district, village, or town becoming a part of its own schools, and working in common with the teacher for their uplift and success.

I believe in the importance of oversight of pupils during the recess and intermission, whether this oversight is exercised under the name of playground supervision or some less formidable name.

I believe in conserving the health of our pupils, that the time will come when school officers will more than at present seek to forestall sickness among school children.

Lastly I believe in the public schools, both the pupils thereof and the teachers thereof, and that the prosperity of America depends upon them.

TEXT BOOKS

The Champion Spelling book has been introduced in the schools and good results are being obtained from it. The music books are being changed as required to the New Educational Music Reader, the better to correlate with the Weaver method of individual singing which is being used.

Several other text books should be changed as the old books wear out, especially the geographies, language books, and arithmetics, in all of which new editions have been published several years.

I believe that the teacher is the all important factor in the school room, but I also believe that we can increase her efficiency by giving her the best text-book on the market, in the same way that we would place in the hands of the master workman the best tool obtainable.

BANKING

During the summer of 1913 the Central Bank of Lowell which for several years had done business with the schools of Dracut, Tewksbury, and Tyngsboro voted to discontinue banking with the schools of these towns. We were, therefore, left at the beginning of the present school year with no banking system for our schools.

The Acts of 1911 authorize any savings bank in the state to do a legitimate business with the schools upon the request of the school committee. The necessary legal steps have been taken and the Lowell Institution for Savings has complied with the law, made the necessary preparation, and is now doing a banking business with the towns above mentioned.

The system is such that the pupil does just as real a business one day per week with the teacher as temporary bank clerk as he could do if he actually went to the city. Any sum is received from one cent up, when this sum reaches one dollar it is placed on interest and a real bank book is issued to the pupil. A very good idea of banking will be taught to the pupil as well as "thrift," which the law compels the schools to teach.

Mr. E. B. Carney, treasurer of the bank has shown his interest in the enterprise by personally visiting each school in the three towns.

PENMANSHIP

I found business writing in use in nearly all the schools of the district. In some schools the manuals were in use, in others no manuals were found.

I have attempted to give new vigor to the work of writing in the public schools, which I believe to be one of the important "Three R's." In this I have been greatly assisted by Mr. W. E. Riley of the Lowell Normal School, who has visited with me all the schools in the district and has given lessons which have been an inspiration to teachers and pupils.

An exchange has been arranged among the different grammar schools, and specimens of writing will be shown at the local exhibition to be held in the Spring term.

Several teachers are working to improve themselves as teachers of penmanship, and several pupils are working for "diplomas" in writing.

HOUSE GARDENS

Wherever a school has grounds suitable for school gardens, and when suitable arrangement can be made for caring for the gardens during the summer, I heartily approve of them, but in many cases these advantages do not exist. Except under favorable circumstances I wish to encourage home gardens in place of school gardens.

I hope to form corn and potato clubs with the assistance of the state college at Amherst, and in connection with the local grange.

I take this opportunity to ask the co-operation of every patron of husbandry. There is no better way to unite the interests of home and school. I look forward to a local fair next Fall under the auspices of the grange, where each pupil may show the result of home activities.

Encouragement of this kind is legitimate work for the grange, and will help both school and grange, for the child of today may be the patron of tomorrow.

STORES IN FOURTH GRADE

Store playing has been taken up in connection with the arithmetic of the fourth grade in an attempt to make a practical use of the multiplication tables, the addition, subtraction and other processes which have been learned. The child who can go to the store, make a half dozen purchases correctly, and be sure that no mistake has been made in the change has acquired something of value to himself and to his parents.

Mr. E. B. Carney, treasurer of the Lowell Institution for Savings, voluntarily sent the following which he permits me to quote, "I was favorably impressed in our recent visits to the various schools in your charge to find that in some of the schools practical examples in finance and business were being taught by means of the various articles offered for sale in the school stores.

"I believe that it is a step in the right direction and will materially help the scholars, the teachers, and the deposits in the savings bank."

INDUSTRIAL WORK

The school board has voted that the supervisor of the manual arts should give a more pronounced trend to the construction work in the early grades. Little has been done in the industrial subjects in this town, but I see no reason why woodworking for the boys of the upper grades and sewing for the girls cannot be taken in the schools of Tyngsboro as well as elsewhere.

In three of the towns of the district this has been done. In North Reading, whose circumstances are quite similar to those of Tyngsboro, no separate teacher is engaged, but very satisfactory work has been done by one of the teachers, taking the boys of the four upper grades and another the girls for one hour per week. A sewing machine has been secured and the girls are at work on simple garments for their own use.

I think that something of this kind would prove useful to your pupils.

VENTILATION

Your school rooms are kept in as good condition as possible, always neat and clean, the ventilation, however, is poor. The so-called ventilating system is of but little use, the teachers are obliged to lower the windows in order to keep down the heat or secure pure air.

The large chimney, occupying a considerable part of the hall, is a detriment to the school, both by being in the way and by overheating the hall. It seems to me that as your building is to be the school home for many years to come it would be well to consider the removal of the huge central pile, and building instead two small chimneys at either end. I believe that this can be done to the great betterment of your school rooms and hall. I recommend that a committee be appointed to consider the desirability and feasibility of such a change.

CO-OPERATION OF PARENTS

I invite the co-operation of parents and guardians. They are urged to visit the schools and consult with the teachers for the best interest of the child, not alone when there is trouble, but rather that trouble may not possibly arise.

Parents are requested in the upper grades to encourage their children to a certain amount of systematic home study, not enough to be injurious to the pupil, but enough to fix in his mind the importance of forming studious habits.

And finally parents are urged to keep the child in the best possible physical and mental condition for his school work. I am convinced that all social functions and entertainments which seek the patronage of pupils of the public schools should come on Friday or Saturday nights.

I would like to see a parent-teacher association organized in this town.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion I wish to call your attention to the reports which subtended to this report form a part of it, that of the Supervisor of Music, of the Supervisor of Drawing, of the School Physician, and Attendance Officer.

I wish to thank the school board for their courteous treatment and unfailing support, and the teachers for their loyal cooperation.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES L. RANDALL,

Superintendent.

Report of Supervisor Music

Mr. Charles L. Randall, Superintendent of Schools,

DEAR SIR:—

I have the pleasure to present herewith my third annual report of Music in Tyngsboro.

This year we are mastering time problems by teaching time motions. Time in music is motion reduced to law. We have taught these motions through the seven fundamental time motions.

Considerable skill in the production of good tone has been acquired through breathing exercises and vocal drills.

Individual singing is playing a very important part in our work this year. In all other branches of school work it is required as an aid in the assimilation of facts, and as a test of the knowledge the child has gained. Why not in music?

The sight translation of a slip of music requires a thorough knowledge of the fundamental principles as expressed in staff notation; quick thinking, intense concentration, to enable the child to think time and tune at the same time; independence and self control.

Written work is given with all individual singing lessons. Graded Melodies and Weaver slips are used for this branch of the work.

Much credit is due the teachers for the splendid results most have obtained in sight singing, owing to the blackboard work which they are so faithfully carrying out.

One new rote song is taught each week in the lower grades to inspire the love for good music and for musical conception and interpretation. This is developed through songs from the graded music readers in the upper grades.

In conclusion, I wish to thank the Superintendent and teachers for their valuable assistance and co-operation.

Respectfully submitted.

MILDRED COLVILLE MALTON.

Supervisor of Music.

Report of Supervisor of Manual Arts.

January 28, 1914.

Mr. Charles L. Randall, Superintendent of Schools,

DEAR SIR:—

I take pleasure in presenting my third annual report of the work in Drawing and Manual Arts in the Tyngsboro Schools.

In some communities the feeling exists that drawing is not one of the fundamentals and therefore should be relegated to an inferior position in the school curriculum. The fact is that disciplinary drawing is of the greatest educational value. Aside from its aesthetic value drawing in the public schools serves a great purpose for it develops the power of expression. Every means of self expression by which the mind can be unfolded should be developed to the utmost.

The regular course in drawing divided into its different branches and each one taken in turn has been followed this year with additional steps or more advanced work. This course includes color work in the fall, the most helpful season for this branch, studied with color scales and applied in washes, nature specimens, vegetable groups and landscapes; design in its simplest form is introduced early for decoration at Christmas time when it is combined with measuring and construction in the making of gift cards, boxes and picture frames; object drawing and simple rules governing it find their place in the winter months; printing, a most beneficial branch, is taken up and applied several times during the year; good spacing and more advanced design combined with color and relative to nature complete the course.

The manual work consists of paper cutting, furniture construction and raffia work in the lower grades, and basketry in the upper grades.

An exhibit of the year's work in all grades will be held in May, and it is hoped will arouse the interest of parents and friends to encourage the pupils and teachers to a still greater advancement.

In all the phases of the work the cordial and painstaking co-operation of the teachers has been a most pleasant and helpful feature and I desire hereby to express my thanks to the Superintendent and teachers for their manifest interest.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARET J. CARNEY,

Supervisor of Manual Arts.

Report of Trustees of Littlefield Library

During this last year the Littlefield Library has been painted, the grounds kept in their usual good conditions and many other minor repairs have been made. A typewriter has been purchased for the convenience of the Librarian. New books have been added. We think that we have one of the finest libraries of its size in the State, and it is one of the most attractive places in the village. It is well patronized by the summer residents as well as by the townspeople. We wish to commend our Librarian for her courtesy and painstaking manner in which she has performed her duties.

The Librarian's and Treasurer's report are herewith submitted.

In behalf of the Trustees,

FRED A. COBURN,

Chairman.

Report of School Committee

To the Citizens of Tyngsborough:—

We submit herewith reports concerning Winslow School for year ending December 31, 1915.

One year ago we brought to your attention the urgent need of additional school room, and as usual you faced the question squarely, with the result you now have a school building second to none in the State as regards heating, lighting, ventilation and sanitation. Will mention two special features which seem very important, namely, ventilated wardrobes, through which a constant flow of warm air is passing, effectively drying the children's outer garments if damp. An emergency room, where a sick or injured child may be placed in bed, free from the noise of playroom, and under the watchful care of the teachers.

A detailed report of the new building may be found in the Building Committee's report.

During the year sewing has been introduced in grades 7 and 8, under the efficient management of Miss Lena Coburn. It has been a success, as those of you who have children in these grades will attest. We hope to have a more generous patronage at the spring exhibit of school work. Come everyone, and see what is being done for the children.

Manual Training

In line with sewing for the girls, something should be done for the boys. It is now a well-known fact that early training of this kind, under competent supervision, is a valuable asset in later life, teaching him to use his hands as well as his head, gives him confidence in his ability to do things himself and not rely on others. To carry this work on for one year we estimate it will cost $150.00.

The committee, after careful analysis of conditions, recommend the appropriation of the following sums for school expense during the year 1916:

Teachers	$2,300.00
Transportation	2,600.00
Books and supplies	250.00
School physician	75.00
High School tuition	1,040.00
High School transportation	250.00
Supervisors, superintendent and janitor	800.00
Manual training	150.00
Incidentals	1,000.00
		$8,465.00

Estimated Reimbursements from State.

High School tuition	$1,040.00
High School transportation	250.00
Winslow Fund	120.00
Superintendent's salary	100.00
Mass. School Fund	1,300.00
		<hr/>
		2,810.00
		$5,655.00

Respectfully submitted,

BERTRAND R. CURRIER,

Chairman.

REPORT OF BUILDING COMMITTEE.

To the Citizens of Tyngsborough:—

The Building Committee appointed at the adjourned Town Meeting held May 27, 1915, submit herewith report in detail in connection with the remodelling of Winslow School:

At the Annual Town Meeting held March 1, 1915, a committee was appointed, consisting of Bertrand R. Currier, Lucien C. McLoon, and Marshall G. Curtis, known as Investigating Committee, to investigate the need and cost of additional school room in connection with Article 15 in the Warrant, reading:

“To see whether the Town will vote to raise and appropriate a sum of money for the purpose of providing additional school room, or take any action thereon” and to report at an adjourned meeting, which was held May 27, 1915, the committee reporting as follows:

Report of Investigating Committee.

Mr. Moderator and Gentlemen:—

Your committee, appointed to investigate the need and cost of additional school room, beg to submit the following report:

The Need.

It was found that the various rooms at the Winslow School were overcrowded as follows:

Based on Enrollment at Beginning of Term		Based on Present Enrollment
1st and 2nd grade	42%	1st and 2nd grade	23%
3rd and 4th grade	13%	3rd and 4th grade	8%
5th and 6th grade	19%	5th and 6th grade	12%
7th and 8th grade	13%	7th and 8th grade	2%

You will observe from this, without even considering the future, which according to the present School Census shows rapid growth, the problem of enlarging seems obvious.

Additional Room.

This problem, as first presented, seemed simple indeed—merely raise the present building and build in four additional rooms, but a careful analysis of conditions eliminated this idea. It is not only a question of a greater number of rooms, but larger rooms. The present four rooms were designed to accommodate 25 to 30 children, but if they were the proper size possibly the present number could be handled satisfactorily, although the best authority, including the Massachusetts State Board of Education, contend that only the best results may be expected when a teacher has not more than 30 pupils in two-grade work, or 35 for single grade instruction. For this reason your committee abandoned the idea of making four more rooms the size of the present ones, as that, while it would overcome the present difficulty, would entail immediately the permanent expense of extra teachers on account of separating the grades.

Your committee then began on the problem of removing necessary partitions and ventilating stack in the present building and making two rooms only, raising the building and building in two more rooms and at the same time building a two-story addition on the rear to take care of future growth, giving six proper-sized rooms.

It seems wise to build the addition or make provision for additional room while the other alterations are going on, as it is much cheaper in the end to buy heating apparatus, arrange for proper ventilation and install sanitary accommodations for the whole six rooms, rather than make these arrangements only for the number of rooms in use, and add on when it is found necessary to use all of the rooms. The cost of doing this work, approximately, would be $17,740.00.

At this stage of our investigations we received a letter from Jas. E. Allen, Lawrence, Mass., an architect of considerable note, particularly in school house construction, stating he would give us the benefit of his experience. We invited him to meet us, furnished him with the necessary data from the plans we had made, and he made a study of the problem from his viewpoint, with the result as you can see.

Mr. Allen's idea is to leave the present building as it is, with the exception of removing two partitions, making two rooms instead of four, and building on in the rear four rooms. This is shown in two ways, namely, building directly in the rear and continuing it southeasterly far enough to get four rooms; the object in doing it this way is not to interfere with the Library. The other way is allowing the wings to project an equal distance on each side of building in the rear.

The cost of either one of these plans would be, approximately, $17,000.00.

Your committee has found that there is considerable discussion relative to a school in the vicinity of Wood's Corner; we have, therefore, given this some thought.

It was found that there were 57 pupils, arriving by electric car, divided as follows: 1st grade, 7; 2nd grade, 8; 3rd grade, 8; 4th grade, 7; 5th grade, 9; 6th grade, 9; 7th grade, 6; 8th grade, 3; total of 57. As this number is more than one teacher can handle, we will consider the first three grades only, which is 23, about a proper number for one teacher, teaching three grades. Now, if this part of the Town is destined to grow, as some think, it would not be wise to build a one-room structure, and the estimated cost of a two-room building, complying with the present regulations (which are very strict) would be about $6,000.00. Of course, it would be necessary to have one more teacher for this school, but her salary would be partly taken care of by the car fare saved, against which, however, must be applied janitor service.

This method possibly would solve the present problem, but if the growth of the Town takes place somewhere else, we would then be confronted with the same difficulty as at present, and considering the fact that once the Winslow School is relieved the chances are that we would not be allowed to overcrowd it again, should occasion arise; and, further, is it wise to divide our schools, as the present arrangement seems to be the accepted idea of greatest efficiency by the leading educators.

Your committee worked out several other problems, which, on careful deliberation, did not appear feasible; we have, therefore, not mentioned them.

We wish to give you a table showing the increase of school children in Tyngsborough, as follows:

Number of children enrolled 1894	87
1899.....	100
1905.....	118
1912.....	132
1914-1915.....	161
School census present date	182

You will observe from these figures that there are double the number of children in town now that there were when the Winslow School was built. You will also notice the building had reached its proper capacity, based on 30 pupils each room—120 in 1905—ten years ago. It would appear from these figures that while we have been enjoying a low tax rate for the last ten years, we have not been hardly fair to ourselves, and it will now be an apparent hardship to expend the large sum of money which seems necessary, (larger, of course, by reason of waiting).

In closing we wish to thank our fellow-townsmen for their assistance and co-operation. We have reported conditions exactly as we have found them; we make no recommendations, leaving the matter entirely in your hands, knowing you will do what is best for the Town and for those who will follow in our footsteps—the children.

Respectfully submitted,

BERTRAND R. CURRIER,

LUCIEN C. McLOON,

MARSHALL G. CURTIS,

Investigating Committee.

At the conclusion of the reading of this report a recess was voted to examine the various plans exhibited.

After the recess a motion was introduced reading as follows:

“That the Town Treasurer be and hereby is authorized and empowered to borrow the sum of $17,000.00 for the purpose of making alterations, additions, and furnishings to the Winslow School, known as Scheme A, and issue the note or notes of the Town in payment therefor, payable in ten equal yearly payments, with interest not to exceed 4% per annum, payable semi-annually,” which was unanimously voted.

A Building Committee was appointed consisting of Bertrand R. Currier, Lucien C. McLoon, Marshall G. Curtis.

This committee engaged the services of Jas. E. Allen, Lawrence, Mass., as architect, to make plans and specifications and superintend the construction of the building. He very promptly proceeded with the work, and on June 21, 1915, called for sealed proposals from the following contractors:

List of Bidders.

Ralph Tilton,
Nashua Building Co.,

E. W. Douglas,

Alway & Meloy,

Geo. A. Smith,

Thos. W. Johnson & Son,

Fred A. Bassett,

John S. Holt,

L. H. McAloon,

E. A. Peabody & Son,

J. W. Stevens & Co.,

P. E. Varnum & Co.,

Horace A. Unwin,

Jas. N. Stevens & Co.

The bids were closed Monday, June 28, 1915, at 12 o'clock noon. Eight of the above contractors returned sealed bids, each accompanied by certified check for $2,000.00, as required in letter to bidders.

The bids were opened June 28, 1915, at six o'clock p. m., by Building Committee, in presence of Architect, and were as follows:

Ralph Tilton	$16,567.00
Nashua Building Co.	15,922.00
E. W. Douglas	15,858.00
Alway & Meloy	14,910.00
Geo. A. Smith	14,877.00
Thos. W. Johnson & Son	14,874.00
L. H. McAloon	14,109.00
E. A. Peabody & Son	13,973.00

E. A. Peabody & Son, Lawrence, Mass., were the lowest bidders, and they were awarded the contract, $13,973.00, the contract being signed the same day at eight o'clock p. m.

At this time there were some voters who thought the loan should be paid in twenty years, instead of ten, and a Special Town Meeting was held June 28, 1915. It was voted unanimously to allow the vote as originally taken to stand.

The contractor began operations on July 2, 1915, and although it rained every day for four weeks work progressed rapidly, and the building was ready for occupancy Nov. 6, 1915, at which time it was publicly dedicated with the following exercises:

Star-Spangled Banner,

Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.

Chorus

Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen thro' the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream:

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has washed out their foul footsteps' pollution.
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave:

Oh, thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
Between their loved home and wild war's desolation;
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n-rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust!"

The laws of Massachusetts have all been complied with in regard to remodelling or construction of new schools, namely: Fireproofing basement ceiling by plastering on metal lathe in old part of building, necessary and properly located exits, approved heating and ventilating plant, proper area of glass for lighting, adequate sanitariums for 252 pupils, and electric fire alarm gongs.

It was discovered after school started that the pumping arrangement that was in the old building was not adequate for the needs of the new, and the Building Committee, working in conjunction with the School Committee, had a deep well outfit installed, with motor located over well; but we were doomed to disappointment, as the new outfit pumped the well dry in twenty-five minutes, yielding less than one hundred gallons of water. After waiting thirty minutes for well to fill it took thirteen minutes to pump it out, showing that the well did not yield but about one gallon of water per minute.

We then approached Mr. A. A. Flint for water supply, and made satisfactory arrangements with him for a supply from his tank, and while the pipe line was being put in we had a hydrant located in front of school house for fire purposes.

The water from Mr. Flint's tank is used for sanitariums only; the well on school ground supplies the drinking fountains and lavatories.

A copy of this Town Report, together with full set of plans and specifications, is filed in the vault at the Town Hall for future reference.

You now have a building of six proper-sized rooms, designed to accommodate 42 pupils each, or 252 in all, which, according to the present growth of the Town, as shown by school statistics, will be ample for some years.

School Superintendent's Report

To the School Committee of Tyngsborough:

Miss Brown and Gentlemen:—

I hereby submit my third annual report, which is the twenty-fifth in the series of Superintendents' reports.

This has been a year of great progress in school affairs in this town. I shall mention the changes which have occurred, together with the outlook for the future, under separate topics.

Teachers. It is your good fortune that few changes have occurred among the teaching force this year. Miss Gladys Gerry resigned the principalship of your schools in June and later accepted a similar position in Draeut. I considered Miss Gerry a promising teacher. Her school was invariably in good condition, and her pupils did well in their studies. You will be pleased to know that she is proving a success in her present position.

Miss Bernice Sherburne, who returned to her home town to accept the principalship of the Winslow School, is a strong disciplinarian, a good executive, and an able teacher. I consider the Town fortunate to secure her services.

No change has been made in supervisors during the year.

New Building. The constantly increasing size of the schools made more commodious rooms a necessity. After keeping our schools running in an "emergency" manner during September and October, we occupied the new building in November, to the great satisfaction of teachers and pupils alike.

As this building will more properly be described in another place I will simply say that the lighting, heating and ventilation is strictly up-to-date, the best that can be devised. The convenience of the six rooms on one floor, the broad corridors, the clean, well-lighted basements and toilets, together with the rest rooms and office, make this the most effective and useful school building with which I am acquainted.

The Town is justly proud of it. It is perhaps needless to say that it should be kept so carefully and in such a cleanly, sanitary condition that this pride need not abate in future years.

Sewing. Believing that a useful education consists to a slight degree in training the hand as well as the mind, the Committee introduced sewing in the upper grades in the spring. Miss Lena Coburn was selected as teacher. Miss Coburn has shown great interest in the work and has taken especial pains to familiarize herself with modern methods; she is proving successful.

The girls were delighted. They have kept up the interest, making various articles for home use. Their work was seen at the June exhibit, and will doubtless be seen at better advantage next spring.

For details I refer you to Miss Coburn's report, which follows.

Woodwork. It is likely to seem unfair to the boys to omit them entirely from this manual form of education. The most natural kind of training for boys is woodworking. Three of the towns of the district have already taken this up. While in every instance one or more boys are found who rebel against the close training which must be given to make the subject a success, yet the great majority, both of pupils and parents, feel that the time and money is well expended, in short, that it pays. I hope that Manual Training for the boys may soon be started in Tyngsborough.

Lunch. In several towns in the district some form of hot lunch is served during the noon intermission, perhaps hot cocoa or hot soup, together with the cold lunch brought by the pupil. This has proved a success in Wilmington, in Tewksbury, and in three of the Dracut schools. I know of no school where the children take longer rides, or where the equipment (with one exception) is better than in Tyngsborough. The convenient room, running water, and electricity make the Winslow School almost ideal for this purpose.

At the time of this writing plans are under way which I trust can be put into effect soon, which will enable us to take better care of our pupils during the intermission.

Later date. Lunch is being served to from eighty to one hundred pupils daily.

Exhibit. An exhibit was held in June of all forms of hand work, including writing. In spite of the absence of Miss Carney this exhibit was a marked success, and was well attended by the parents and friends of the pupils.

I hope that this may come to be considered an annual affair and may be even better patronized in the future.

Graduation. Thursday afternoon, June 24, 1915, very pleasant exercises were held at the Town Hall. Those pupils whose names follow took part in the program and were given diplomas from the Grammar School:—Mildred Mary Shea, Martha Elizabeth Worcester, Bertha Evelyn Doyle, Edward Allen Norris, Bertrand Allen McKittrick, George Henry Jones, Harold Albion Farrow, Marion Emma Tilton, Mildred Adele Tilton, Helen Gladys Warley, James Anastas.

Six of these pupils entered Lowell High School in September and have done creditable work.

Statistics. You will notice that the enrolment at the present time is nearly what it was one year ago. The slight decrease is explained by the fact that several pupils of school age did not start in the first grade because of the late date of beginning last fall. You will also notice that the per cent. of attendance in the three upper rooms is good.

Conclusion. In conclusion, I again ask the co-operation of parents, citizens and all interested in the schools, without it our work must fail.

I wish to again thank School Committee members, teachers and supervisors for the cheerful, enthusiastic support which makes our work successful.

Let me call to your careful attention the reports, which subtended form a part of this report.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. L. RANDALL.

Report of Supervisor of Music

Mr. Charles L. Randall, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—

I herewith submit my second annual report as Supervisor of Music in the schools of Tyngsborough.

The Weaver system, which was introduced by my predecessor, Miss Malton, and which was still somewhat undeveloped last year, as it was entirely new to the children, is now well established, and especially in the lower grades is beginning to show such results as this method merits.

The two chief phases of this work are Sight Reading and Theory. Great stress is also being laid on good tone quality. There has been much improvement in this last respect, and I hope for greater improvement before the end of the year.

In the primary grades there can be, of course, very little theory presented. But the foundation of sight reading and of proper tone production is established in these grades, and much special work is done with those whose sense of pitch is not good. By the end of the first year there are rarely any "monotones" left. All songs in the first and second grades are learned by rote, and artistic production of these songs is striven for. It is interesting to note how quickly children perceive the mood of a song, and how aptly they interpret it.

In the third and fourth grades sight reading is continued, with some theory, and the classes learn songs from their books. Two-part work is begun in the fifth and sixth grades with more difficult time and time problems. In the seventh and eighth grades three-part songs are used, and such work in theory as is practical is continued. In all grades individual work is very important. In no other way can independent tone-thinking be obtained, and in no other way can genuine class work be secured.

In conclusion, I wish to thank the teachers for their efficient co-operation in this work. Also, I desire to thank you, Mr. Randall, for your generous assistance during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

EVELYN BUCKINGHAM WAITE.

Report of Supervisor of Drawing and Manual Labor

Mr. Charles L. Randall, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—

I take great pleasure in presenting to you my fifth annual report of the work in Drawing and Manual Arts in the Tyngsborough Schools.

The general outline which I submit is much the same as last year, but is changed where the growing interests of the classes or the school seem to demand a change.

The work in Drawing is divided into five branches: color, nature, object drawing, printing and design, each branch carried out in all grades, the amount varying with the grade.

In the fall color was studied, scales made and applied to nature specimens, trees and landscapes; the latter were used in January for calendars, the aim always tending towards practical application. Holidays were observed by making and designing post cards for Hallowe'en, place and menu cards for Thanksgiving, boxes, cornucopias and gift cards for Christmas, Valentines and Easter cards, all of which lead to the designing of the graduation programs in the upper grades. Object drawing, the study of foreshortening, convergence and grouping is taken up during the winter months. Printing and design, combined with interior decoration and dress harmony, complete the course.

The manual work of the lower grades includes paper cutting, furniture construction and raffia work; of the upper grades, cardboard construction, passepartout and reed work.

In June an exhibition of manual arts was held in the Town Hall. Such a display stimulates better work in the children and a keener interest for this department in the community.

I wish to take this occasion to express my sincere thanks to both Superintendent and teachers for their generous assistance extended to me and my work.

MARGARET J. CARNEY,

Supervisor of Drawing.

Report of Supervisor of Sewing

Mr. C. L. Randall, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—

It is with pleasure that I submit this, my first, report as Supervisor of Sewing in the Tyngsborough School.

Last February sewing was introduced for the first time.

The girls of the upper grades were taught the various stitches on white cloth, using colored thread. Dish towels were hemmed and each girl made a work bag in which to keep her work. Patching on plaid material, button holes, small dimity aprons, articles of underwear, a middy blouse, waist and a pair of hemstitched pillow cases were completed.

This year the girls have made pin cushions, school bags, pencil cases, dust bags, and small gingham aprons gathered into a band, and are now working on articles of underwear and aprons of all kinds.

Before the year is ended I hope to have each girl finish an article of underwear or apron and a simple dress.

The girls are learning to use the new sewing machine and to cut from paper patterns, and I am trying to give them a complete understanding of the different stitches and seams used in everyday sewing.

The girls in the lower grades learned the different stitches on white cloth, hemmed dish towels, made work bags, aprons and underwear.

This year they have completed bean bags, dish towels, broom bags, pencil cases, work bags and small aprons, and are now working on articles of underwear and aprons.

The girls take a great interest in their sewing and do good work.

I wish to thank you, Mr. Randall, for the assistance you have rendered me during these first months of my supervising, and also the teachers with whom I am working, for their hearty co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

LENA M. COBURN.

Report of School Physician

To the School Committee of Tyngsborough:—

Herewith is submitted a report of my eighth year's work as School Physician.

Owing to the inconvenient housing of pupils, and the absence of the first grade, the annual physical examination was postponed from September to November, when the work could be done under proper conditions in the re-modelled school house.

At this time the conditions found and the number affected were as follows:—Number examined, 144; disease of nose, 3; throat, 36; teeth, 67; hair, 19; skin, 5; heart, 6; glands, 29; eyes, 14; ears, 2; unvaccinated, 14.

Notices were sent to the homes of all children found to be defective, and parents are expected to have the conditions remedied.

Ten of the unvaccinated have since been successfully vaccinated and the remaining four excused on certificate.

Several cases of contagious disease, including measles, scarlet fever, chicken-pox, septic sore throat, and infantile paralysis have been found and excluded from school.

The enlarged and renovated school building fills a long-felt need, and all who use it are fully satisfied with the changes made.

The heating, lighting, ventilating and sanitary systems are particularly well worked out, and with the large increase in capacity make it one of the best small school houses in this vicinity.

The advisability of securing the services of a school nurse is again urged, and the suggestion offered that such service might well be combined with that of a local visiting nurse, of which there is some talk just now.

Respectfully submitted,

F. D. LAMBERT, M. D.,

School Physician.

Report of Cemetery Commissioners

The Tyng, Flint, Thompson and Sherburne Cemeteries have received their usual care of grounds, and the perpetual care lots—some of the stones have been cleaned and put in good shape.

For financial part of account see Auditor's report.

LOUIS T. BRADDON,

OTIS L. WRIGHT,

FRED K. SINCLAIR,

Commissioners.

Report of Tree Warden

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen and Citizens of the Town of Tyngsborough:

Gentlemen:—I hereby submit my report as Tree Warden for the year ending Dec. 31, 1916.

The work of the Tree Warden has been directed towards the trimming of limbs and removing of several dead oak and elm in different sections of the village at small cost. Much credit should be given to the men who did this work, and who are experts in this line.

There has also been 25 silver maples set out on Shipley and Potash Hill roads, all of which are alive and doing well.

Recommendation.

I would recommend that $100.00 (one hundred dollars) be appropriated for the year 1917.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES J. ALLGROVE,

Tree Warden.

Report of Trustees of Littlefield Library

To the Citizens of Tyngsborough:

We hereby submit reports concerning the Littlefield Library for the past year, and wish especially to call your attention to that of the Treasurer.

It is evident that an appropriation from the Town must be secured if the Library is to continue its present high grade of service to the people.

This is necessary because of missed dividends on certain investments and because of a decrease in the income from the Dog Tax, which is ordinarily devoted to Library expenses.

As it may not be generally known, it is well to state that most of the funds in our care can be used only for certain specified purposes, and while the report of the Treasurer shows a balance on the right side of the ledger, we have had to curtail on what the public want most—new books.

Therefore we ask for at least one hundred dollars appropriation beside the Dog Tax.

Respectfully submitted,

F. D. LAMBERT, M. D.,

Chairman.

Report of School Committee

To the Citizens of Tyngsborough:

We submit herewith reports concerning the Winslow School for year ending December 31, 1916.

It was found necessary to open up an additional room (making five in all) at the opening of the schools in September, owing to the number of children presenting themselves for instruction.

Manual Training for the boys has proven a very desirable addition, judging from the favorable reports of parents and boys.

Transportation.—This problem is one of the most serious and expensive with which the Town has to contend. In place of four one-horse drawn barges, used in 1916, we are doing the same work with two two-horse drawn barges, and while it may seem a hardship to some families, who, under the old method, were fortunate enough to have a barge pass their door, when you consider all the elements which enter into the matter, the present method does the most good to the largest number of pupils. There has been some very harsh criticism regarding the closing of the schools during the snowstorms. On investigation it was found that the criticism invariably came from residents living near the centre of the Town, or on a much-travelled road, who apparently did not take the trouble to ascertain if the barge roads in the outlying sections were passable. And in this connection we would suggest that the department whose duty it is to see that all roads are made passable, do so as early as possible after storms, to enable barges to make their trips as near schedule as practicable.

School Grounds.—One hundred (100) dollars was included in the school expenses for grading the grounds in connection with the Village Improvement Association, putting in sidewalk curbing. After discussion with officers of the Village Improvement Association the Committee did not consider it wise, in view of the large school expense, in addition to paying for our new building, to start a grading job which would mean the appropriation of other and larger sums to complete the work, but did intend to slope off the grounds bordering on the sidewalk, which could not be done on account of Improvement Association not finishing their work until the ground was frozen. This work will be done in the spring.

The overdraft of the school expenses is accounted for by the fact that the Massachusetts School Fund was only $1,053.00, and we estimated $1,300.00 in the yearly budget.

The Committee recommend the following sums for school expenses for the year 1917:

Teachers	$2,800.00
Transportation	2,600.00
Books and supplies	450.00
School physician	100.00
High School tuition.....	1,800.00
High School transportation.....	300.00
Supervisors, supt. and janitor.....	920.00
Manual training	100.00
Incidentals	1,350.00
	<hr/>	$10,420.00

Estimated reimbursements from State:

High School tuition.....	$1,800.00
High School transportation.....	300.00
Winslow Fund	115.00
Superintendent's salary	120.00
Massachusetts School Fund.....	1,118.00
	<hr/>	3,453.00
		$6,967.00

The reason for the larger amount than last year is occasioned by the addition of one more teacher, higher price for coal and one hundred per cent. increase in the cost of all supplies.

Respectfully submitted,

BERTRAND R. CURRIER,
Chairman.

School Superintendent's Report

Lowell, Massachusetts, Feb. 5, 1917.

To the School Committee of Tyngsborough:

Gentlemen:—

I hereby submit my fourth annual report, which is the twenty-sixth in the series of Superintendents' reports.

Your schools have made good progress during the past year, but one important change has taken place—that of employing a fifth teacher, which I shall mention later.

Teachers. All teachers who were with you one year ago remained this year. Miss Susan Morse, who had taught formerly in the primary grades, was assigned at her own request to Grade one, Miss Cochrane takes Grades two and three, while Miss Sherburne and Miss Mansfield share equally in the work of the three upper grades, Miss Sherburne taking Grade eight and one-half the work of Grade seven, and Miss Mansfield taking Grade six and one-half the work of Grade seven.

The number of pupils in the lower grades was so large that it was thought best to open the school year with five rooms instead of four. Accordingly, in addition to the changes indicated above, a separate school was formed of Grades four and five, and Miss Ruth Tingley, a recent graduate of Lowell Normal School, was secured as teacher. Miss Tingley resigned during the Christmas vacation, and Mrs. Gertrude Blanchard is at present in charge of the room. Mrs. Blanchard is a teacher well prepared and with successful experience. This gives you five well-organized schools in the Winslow building.

Manual Training. In the Spring term Mr. Robert Dexter, of North Reading, was engaged to teach Manual Training in your schools. A "start" was made that term, a room being fenced off in the basement. Tools were procured and the boys made some articles such as benches and tool cases for their own use.

It was with regret that we received the resignation of Mr. Dexter during the summer vacation. After considerable delay Mr. Edmund Alger, a student in the advanced class at Fitchburg Normal School, was secured for this work. Fitchburg gives the best training in this line of any school in the State. It is felt that with his excellent opportunities in the past years of securing a valuable training himself, Mr. Alger should make a good teacher for your boys. While he has had charge of the class but a short time he gives promise of success.

Lunch. At the time of writing my report last year lunch serving was just started in the Winslow School. This was continued for the remainder of last winter's term, and has been carried on since the Christmas vacation this year.

Should you call at the school house any forenoon you would find two or three pupils of the upper grades seated in the dining room with their books, both working at their regular tasks and also watching the cocoa which is in preparation. Immediately after school is dismissed at noon you would find the pupils of the three lower schools at their desks eating their lunches. A cup of hot cocoa is served to each by pupils of the upper grades. While in the "spare" room you would find two tables "set" and the pupils of Miss Sherburne's room and of Miss Mansfield's room seated at them, while the teachers preside at the head of the tables. After luncheon, which is not hurried, you would find a small group of boys and girls, the former as interested as the latter, "doing" the dishes. All are well pleased and contented. While this manner of spending the lunch period during the winter is exacting on the teachers, yet I feel sure that it is decidedly worth while. All the credit of this undertaking rests with Miss Sherburne and the other teachers.

Transportation. There is no more vexed question connected with the public schools than that of transportation. It is commonly admitted that the discontinuance of the small rural schools, with their scattered populations and their small number of pupils, was a stride in educational advancement. That question is not under discussion. But for many years the task of transporting children from the several districts to the central school has not had sufficient care, nor has it actually always been considered a part of the pupil's education. In the days when every pupil got to school as best he might, and "transportation" problems were unknown, the school day began when the pupils were called into the school room and work was begun. In course of time the law decreed that the pupil was under the control of the school authorities from the time he left home till he returned to his parents' charge. The law which makes the child amenable to the teacher for his conduct while on the way to and from school places a great responsibility upon the school authorities who provide the transportation of pupils from a distance to the central building.

Too many times, in many localities, the only thought seems to have been to get the children driven as cheaply as possible. Too many times the driver considers that he has been engaged to drive the team over a certain route twice per day, but not to control the pupils or exercise any discipline over them. In such cases the children have been left to their own discretion. There have been many cases under my observation where some one or more of the older pupils, being orderly and well disposed, have exercised a salutary control over the entire load of children, and nothing has been said or done on such barges which should offend anyone.

There have been, and are throughout the State, barges where the children are left to their own devices, and the personnel of the load is such that the influence is bad. Profanity and vulgarity are the rule, while actions which sometimes pass the bounds of decency are indulged in. I am making no specific charges, but I do wish to make clear the environments which may occur under transportation, and say briefly what the status ought to be in any town in Massachusetts where transportation is conducted.

First. Let us say that a proper conveyance should be secured so that the children may be carried without overcrowding and with proper protection from rain, snow and cold. This vehicle, which is covered, should be lighted as well as curtained: the pupils should not be shut up in a dark room. Enough blankets should be provided for the proper protection of each child in cold weather. A school barge which is fitted for carrying children is expensive, and should be owned by the town. It would often be impossible, or at least impracticable, for the driver who works on a short contract to provide such a conveyance as parents or school committee might wish.

There is at present a firm which makes a speciality of manufacturing school barges—these are equipped with apparatus for heating in the winter. Much of the present criticism against barge transportation would be eradicated if the towns should own and maintain their own conveyances.

Second. Just as exacting painstaking care of the pupils should be demanded of the barge driver as of the teacher. The children should be kept from danger of bodily harm and from moral contamination. This can be secured when each driver recognizes his responsibility and his authority and is willing to enforce it, or when a capable person is secured to have charge of the larger barges without reference to the driver, having exactly the same jurisdiction over the children in the barge that a teacher would over a play room. There is but little that need be said on this particular topic. The school authorities are responsible for the good conduct of the pupils to and from school, but no officials can take away the responsibility which rests upon the parents. Earnest, wise and constant co-operation on the part of every parent is requested in this important feature of school life.

Third. The route should be so arranged that no child should be kept waiting in storm or cold for an unreasonable time, nor should he be an unreasonable time on the road.

Service for several years on the "transportation committee" obliges me to say that no part of a school committeeman's duties is more onerous than this, and no part less appreciated.

Graduation. June 22, 1917, appropriate exercises were held at the Town Hall, and the following pupils received diplomas:

Rose Alice Barlow, Claire Verna Bell, Bertha Luella Blanchard, Thomas James Buntell, Helen Gertrude Carkin, Nellie Hamlin DeCarteret, Laura Annie Dixon, Clara Ella Ford, Annie Susan McLoon, Ralph Napoleon Pelletier, Horace Myron Reed, Mildred Mary Roberts, Albert Edward Russon, Bertha Mabel Stanley.

Of these pupils thirteen entered the Lowell High School.

Conclusion. The Table of Statistics which follows shows an increase of sixteen over the total enrolment of last year.

I wish to call to your attention the reports of Supervisors and School Physician which follow.

In conclusion I again wish to express my appreciation of the hearty co-operation of teachers and supervisors and the constant support of the Committee.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. L. RANDALL.

Report of Supervisor of Drawing and Manual Arts

Mr. Charles L. Randall, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—

It is with great pleasure indeed that I present my sixth annual report of Drawing in the Tyngsborough School.

As in all other subjects, an outline, including the different branches of drawing, is made out and followed throughout the year, changes being made and additional problems put in as classes or conditions require. The branches of drawing taken up in each grade are color, nature in specimens and landscape, object drawing, construction, printing and design. It is with regret that we think of the short allowance of time for each branch, with the unlimited number of problems possible, yet each part of the course, in itself, seems equally important.

The work in the lower grades is an upward climb with the help of constant drill upon the part of the teachers, which is amply repaid in the results of the upper grades. An additional line, figure drawing, will be added this year in the grammar grades, where, it is felt, the class will be ready for this kind of work after a keen sense of observation has been encouraged through object drawing.

Raffia work, in winding, braiding and weaving, will be taken up in the fourth and fifth grades. Previous to this year raffia work was put in the second primary grades, and many useful models of credible workmanship made. In construction, hand, eye and head work together in producing neatness and accuracy in a finished article.

Last year an exhibition of the work done in the different branches of Manual Arts was held at the Winslow School. This has become an annual affair, and something which should be looked forward to with decided interest and enthusiasm by pupils, teachers and parents, considering the time and efforts made all during the year for this particular event, and chiefly because in no better way may the work of the entire year be viewed and development of the subjects shown. It can truthfully be said of the last exhibition that it was not given its proper place in the interest of the Town, and so it would seem each one should arouse their own and each other's enthusiasm to a more sympathetic and helpful attitude toward an event of no small importance.

I should like to take this occasion to thank the teachers for their most earnest co-operation in my work, and you, Mr. Randall, for your ever kind assistance.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARET J. CARNEY.

Report of Supervisor of Music

Mr. Charles L. Randall, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—

It is with pleasure that I submit this my third annual report as Supervisor of Music in the Schools of Tyngsborough.

The work is being continued along the same lines as heretofore, special emphasis being laid on proper interpretation of songs, pleasing tone quality, and sight reading.

I am very grateful for this opportunity to thank the teachers for their hearty co-operation in my work; also I thank you, Mr. Randall, for your generous aid during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

EVELYN BUCKINGHAM WAITE.

Report of Supervisor of Sewing

Mr. C. L. Randall, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—

I herewith submit my second annual report as Supervisor of Sewing in the Tyngsborough School.

The general outline which I submit is much the same as last year.

The girls of the upper grades have made pin cushions, dust bags, with a dust cloth, book bags, pencil cases, gathered aprons and other different styles of percale aprons, underclothes and two dresses. The girls also gave a demonstration at each lesson of the different stitches that were used in the work.

This year the girls have made all kinds of aprons, underwear and baby's nightdresses, and two of the girls have started on their graduation underwear.

The girls in the lower grades made bean bags, hemmed dish towels, broom bags, pencil cases, work bags, small dimity aprons and articles of underwear.

This year they have completed dish towels, work bags, aprons of all kinds, and are now working on articles of underwear and aprons.

I wish to thank you, Mr. Randall, for the assistance you have rendered me during the year, and also the teachers with whom I am working for their hearty co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

LENA M. COBURN.

February 5, 1917.

Report of School Physician

To the School Committee of Tyngsborough:

In submitting my ninth annual report as School Physician I desire to call attention only to those features of the work which are of special importance.

Each year many children enter school at the beginning of the Fall term who have not complied with the law, which requires all school children to be vaccinated. This condition should be remedied by having the vaccination done in the summer before school opens.

Cards are sent home each year stating plainly the diseases or defects found in the children examined at school, and parents are strongly urged to have the trouble corrected. In some cases this advice is appreciated and acted upon, but in many instances the notice is ignored and the child deprived of its right to be well.

A school nurse is needed to do this follow-up work, and I earnestly recommend that one be employed for a limited time each year.

It is equally important that some arrangement be made to have a competent dentist examine and treat the children's teeth in a way which will be economical both of time and money, and I urge you to give this matter earnest consideration.*

About the usual number of defects were found at the annual examination, except a marked increase in enlarged glands, decayed teeth, and heads infected with pediculi or their eggs.

Number examined:—154. Disease of nose, 5; throat, 36; teeth, 80; hair, 38; skin, 8; glands, 36; eyes, 15; ears, 3; unvaccinated, 8; curvature of spine, 1.

At the school house conditions are excellent, except that some of the rooms need more radiating surface for the direct heat (outside windows already on trial may be sufficient), and fly screens ought to be provided for all doors and a part of the windows.

For the convenience of those who have work to do at the school house, but more especially in cases of accident or illness among the children, it seems to me that the placing of a telephone in the building should be no longer delayed.

The school grounds are still in a rough and unsightly condition, and make an unpleasant impression on the general public as well as those who cross them daily.

Respectfully submitted,

Report of Trustees of Littlefield Library

To the Citizens of Tyngsborough:

In presenting our annual report we wish first to express our deep regret that removal from town caused the resignation as treasurer of our fellow member, Mr. Harry L. Littlehale, who for the past ten years faithfully and efficiently performed the important duties of this office.

To fill the vacancy thus caused, we consolidated the offices of secretary and treasurer, and elected our secretary, Mr. Charles P. Littlehale, to serve in the double capacity until after Town election.

The same causes which operated last year to reduce our income from invested funds and made it necessary to obtain an appropriation from the Town in addition to the Dog Tax, still continue in effect and compel us to again ask for an increased amount.

A study of the Treasurer's report shows that the Library must be apportioned at least one hundred and fifty dollars in addition to the Dog Tax in order to meet the absolutely necessary expenses for the coming year.

Some minor repairs have been made to the building, the gas machine put in a usable condition for emergencies, and the grounds slightly regraded to conform to changes made in the sidewalk and the school grounds.

Respectfully submitted,

F. D. LAMBERT, M. D.,

Chairman.

School Superintendent's Report

Lowell, Mass., Feb. 5, 1918.

To the School Committee of Tyngsboro:

Gentlemen:

I hereby submit my fifth annual report, which is the twenty-seventh in the series of Superintendents' reports.

Your schools have done another successful year's work with no feature, perhaps, of especial importance.

Teachers. For the first time in the history of the School you have lost a teacher in service. Mrs. Gertrude M. Blanchard, formerly a teacher in your Schools and for two terms teacher of the Intermediate room at the Winslow School, died Sept. 11, 1917. Mrs. Blanchard was a faithful, hardworking teacher, devoted to the best interests of her pupils. She was a loyal friend and an efficient citizen.

Miss Helen Mansfield, for four years a teacher in your Schools, was elected to a position in Lowell. She closed her last year of service in the Town with marked success.

Miss Bessie M. Norris, a graduate of Lowell Normal School, a teacher with several years' experience, has been chosen to succeed Miss Norris in the Intermediate School.

Miss Louise Sherburne, a graduate of Smith College, has taught grade three and four since Oct. 1.

Miss Evelyn B. Waite, for three years Supervisor of Music in the Schools of this district, resigned in the summer vacation to accept a position nearer her home.

Miss Ruth H. Nourse, of Boston, was secured for the position. Miss Nourse is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, four-year course. After several years' experience as teacher of instrumental music, she returned to the Conservatory for a post-graduate course in order to fit herself for a public school position. She has made an excellent beginning in securing the goodwill and loyalty of both teachers and pupils.

Salaries. Tyngsboro has always surprised the other Towns of the district in the salaries paid to experienced teachers. In January, 1918, such substantial increases were made in salaries of the other Towns that all are now on a par.

cumstances, but the increase in the cost of living being abnormal, it seems no more than justice that the salaries of teachers be so augmented that the increase in salary becomes proportionate to the increased cost of board, travelling expenses, and other necessities, in short, that the yearly salary should nearly equal in purchasing power what it was two years ago. I feel sure that every member of the Committee, and I doubt not every citizen in Town, wishes to pay the teachers such salaries that they may remain in the important service for which they have been fitted, and not be forced to turn to some other vocation.

Thrift Stamps. Arrangements have been made so that the pupils may purchase Thrift Stamps at the several schools. This seems to me an excellent method of teaching at the same time thrift and patriotism.

Athletics. Playground activities have for several years been encouraged in the various schools. Plans have been made recently in the upper grades for what is called the Athletic Badge Test for both boys and girls. This is following the standards set by the Playground Association of America, and consists not in competition contests but in certain minimum requirements that have been established for boys and girls of certain ages, as per example—For boys of twelve years: The pull up 4 times, standing broad jump 5 ft. 9 in., 60 yds. dash 8 3-5 seconds.

Many children will exceed the minimum standards just as many will pass an arithmetic test with a rank higher than 70%. All who pass these athletic tests next May will receive badges authorized by the Playground Association.

The children are enthusiastic and the teachers much interested. I heartily approve of it, for I believe that "Every boy ought to be fit." "In these days the boy who makes himself physically efficient is preparing himself for efficient citizenship later."

Civics. The history course was rearranged last year in such a manner that the last half-year of the eighth grade was spent in this subject. An attempt is being made to make this study as practical as possible in connection with the life of the community.

Grange. The local Grange offered a number of small prizes to pupils for work done in the home gardens. An exhibit was held in the Fall. In spite of the early frost a creditable showing was made. I hope that this feature may be continued and may become a greater success this coming year.

An agent from the Middlesex Farm Bureau has recently visited your Schools and has succeeded in organizing a number of the girls into "clubs" for the purpose of home work in sewing, canning, and home economies.

Offers will be made within a few days to the boys to become interested in poultry, pig and corn clubs under the direction of the State.

Manual Training. The handwork for boys and girls continues. Miss Coburn's report on the work done in sewing follows.

Mr. Edmund Alger, who has charge of the woodwork for the boys, reports:

From Nov., 1916, to June, 1917, as follows: 2 box traps, 4 necktie racks, 1 milking stool, 5 book racks, 4 bird houses, 1 bread board, 1 saw horse, 10 picture frames. The boys also made light repairs about the building.

From Sept., 1917, to Dec., 1917, framed and put up blackboards, built 1 bulletin board, 10 boards with clips, 5 picture frames, 30 toy animals as Christmas presents for younger children.

Transportation. Transportation problems, which have been serious for many years past, have been especially arduous this past year. The high cost of labor and necessities has made it very difficult to have the children driven and properly cared for at reasonable prices. Again I advise the Town to consider the feasibility of owning its own conveyance. In towns where the public owns the barge and sled the School Committee are more independent and the rates are lower.

Graduation. Graduation exercises were held at the Town Hall, Thursday, June 21, 1917, and were much enjoyed by the friends who were present. The following program was presented:

PIANO SOLO

Alma M. McKittrick

"THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH,"

Fifteen Pupils

PIANO DUETT

Susie M. Danforth and Hazel B. Whittaker

SONG

PIANO SOLO

Bernice M. Upton

CLASS SONG

Diplomas were presented by Mr. Frank G. W. McKittrick to the following: Charles Jesse Allgrove, Ethel Maud Bruce, Roy Theodore Buntel, Frank Elwin Cobleigh, Susie Madeline Danforth, Annie Carroll De Carteret, Anna Victoria McCarthy, Alma Maude McKittrick, Georgia May Louise McKittrick, Leo Gilbert Pelletier, Clayton Howard Reed, Wyman Russon, Bernice Myrtle Upton, Hazel Bancroft Whitaker.

Of these pupils twelve entered High School, two the Vocational School, and one is at work.

High School. The large number of men called to the army and the great demand for help in all kinds of industrial work, together with correspondingly high wages, has greatly affected the High School attendance in our country. This is true of the enrollment of the Lowell High School, and has to some extent decreased the number of Tyngsborough pupils attending High School. For the past five years this Town has had a constantly increasing eighth grade and a correspondingly large High School attendance. This year not only has the High School enrollment not gained, but it has actually decreased. Last year there were 29 pupils in High School, this fall 26.

There may be reasons for the boys of the upper classes leaving High School to take up the work of the enlisted men, but it seems to me a short-sighted policy, so far as the future welfare of the country is concerned, to have the younger boys, those under sixteen, neglect their school on account of the lure of the present high wages and the ease of getting a job.

The warning has been given by Hon. Payson Smith, Commissioner of Education in Massachusetts, and by Hon. Philander Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, to impress upon the young people of the country that their patriotic duty is to get as good an education as possible in order that their value may be enhanced for some future need.

I pass this warning and advice along with hearty endorsements to the parents of pupils now in the Lowell High School and now in the eighth grade of Tyngsboro.

Conclusion. In closing I again ask the co-operation of all parents with the teachers. The child is under the direction of the school but six hours per day for five days per week. What he is doing after school, how he spends his evenings and holidays, is a matter of vital importance in character building.

I wish that there might be frequent consultations between parents and teachers on this important subject, not only when the pupil is "in trouble," but when no trouble clouds are seen.

The supervisors and teachers have shown unmistakable loyalty in our mutual duties, and the School Board has given me continuing support, all of which I deeply appreciate.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. L. RANDALL,

Superintendent.

Report of Supervisor of Drawing and Manual Arts

Mr. Charles L. Randall, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—

I have the pleasure of presenting herewith my seventh annual report of Drawing in the schools of Tyngsboro.

Drawing is always a means of recording or conveying ideas or conceptions or impressions of form, just as words are a means of recording or transmitting thoughts and experiences. The average workman must understand drawing because execution in nearly every branch of industry demands it.

The outline of work in our schools is planned to cultivate an appreciation of art in its application to production, to home-making, and to the personal life of the individuals. The different branches of the subject are closely related to one another, and the exercises in these branches are made to arise from the child's interest in his immediate surroundings.

The primary instruction deals mostly with objects, incidents and scenes with which the children are familiar.

In the Grammar grades the features of the work that receive most attention are pencil drawings, color work, printing and design applied to constructed articles. Design and its application to the December work of this year was most satisfactory. This is indeed encouraging, because the knowledge of design has not only æsthetic value but also great commercial value. It not only provides occupation for thousands of people but it also increases the market value of products.

The annual exhibition held in June is our best means of showing to parents and friends the progress made in this department, and such a display should be encouraged to stimulate keener interest in the child and thus lead him to an appreciation of the best in the highest cultural sense.

The cordial and loyal co-operation of the teachers in all phases of the work has been most pleasant and helpful, and I desire to express my thanks to the Superintendent and teachers for their manifest interest.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARET J. CARNEY.

Report of Supervisor of Music

Mr. C. L. Randall, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—

I submit for your consideration my first report as Supervisor of Music in Tyngsboro.

To my mind the purpose of teaching music in the public schools is threefold—

I. To enable the largest possible number of children to participate correctly and tunefully in the singing.

II. By this means to develop in them a love for good music.

III. To teach as many of the principles and to furnish as much of the practice of sight singing as may be possible under the existing conditions.

As means by which to reach these ends, Tone, Rhythm, Ear-Training, Eye-Training and Sight-Singing are being taught. It is well said, "Music teaches most exquisitely the art of development."

It is an interesting fact that there are more people making money in music than in any other profession except in public school teaching.

The Supervisor is absolutely dependent upon her grade teachers, and I take this opportunity of expressing my sincere appreciation of the hearty co-operation and good will of the teachers and Superintendent of this Town.

Very truly yours,

RUTH H. NOURSE.

Report of Supervisor of Sewing

Mr. C. L. Randall, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:—

I take great pleasure in presenting to you my third annual report as Supervisor of Sewing in the Tyngsborough School.

The general outline which I submit is much the same as that of last year.

The girls of the upper grades have made aprons of all kinds, both large and small, underclothes, kimonas, and a dress.

This year the girls have made dish towels, work bags, aprons of all kinds, underclothes, four pairs of bloomers, kimonas, pajamas, broom bags and a little Red Cross sewing. One of the girls has started a dress, and I hope to have others for exhibition.

The girls in the lower grades made bags, aprons of all kinds and articles of underwear.

This year they have completed dish towels, work bags, broom bags, iron holders, small gathered aprons, large aprons, and are now making small dimity aprons.

There is also a demonstration at the beginning of each lesson of the different stitches, seams, etc., which are used in making the different articles. The girls do all their own cutting from patterns.

I find that a great deal of interest is shown not only by the girls but also by the parents.

I wish to thank you, Mr. Randall, for the assistance you have rendered me during the year, and also the teachers with whom I am working, for their hearty co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

LENA COBURN.

Report of School Physician

To the School Committee of Tyngsborough:

In presenting my tenth annual report I wish to be as brief as possible and mention only essentials.

The school children have been carefully examined, and in all cases where trouble exists parents have been notified.

In compliance with the request of the State Department of Health, vaccination rules have been more rigidly followed than ever, and as a result every child now complies with the law.

Attendance at school has not been seriously affected by illness among the children, the weather and home conditions probably accounting for more than half the absences. Epidemic disease has been less prevalent than usual, and contagious disease rare.

Whatever outbreaks occurred were quickly checked by the concerted action of the school and health authorities.

For better control of health conditions in the school, I again recommend improved heating facilities, fly screens on all windows and doors, free dental services at the school twice a year, part-time employment of a school nurse, and a restricted service telephone.

Respectfully submitted,

F. D. LAMBERT, M. D.

Report of Cemetery Commissioners

We recommend one hundred fifty dollars ($150.00) towards a new fence in the Thompson Cemetery, also for repairing walls in the Sherburne, Flint and Drake Cemeteries. The above named Cemeteries have received about their usual care for the small amount that the town allowed us.

THOMAS GOODCHILD,
FRANK P. WEBSTER,
OTIS L. WRIGHT,
Commissioners.

Report of Trustees of Littlefield Library

To the Citizens of Tyngsboro :

We herewith present the reports of the Treasurer and Librarian for the past year.

A study of income and expenses shows that we shall need an appropriation from the town, exclusive of Dog Tax of $125.00.

We wish to acknowledge with thanks gifts of birds from Mrs. Francena L. Sherburne and Ralph S. Harlow, and to call attention to the really fine collection on exhibition.

The work of collecting and distributing books for the soldiers has been continued, and we gratefully express our appreciation of the satisfactory manner in which the Librarian has conducted this as well as all the other duties of her office.

Respectfully submitted, *

FREDERICK D. LAMBERT, M. D.

Chairman.

School Superintendent's Report

Lowell, Mass., Feb. 3, 1919.

To the School Committee of Tyngsboro:

Gentlemen:

I hereby submit my sixth annual report which is the twenty-eighth in the series of Superintendents' reports.

While the work of the schools has to some extent been interfered with by the demands of such form of war work as children can do, the year has, as a whole, been a successful one.

Supervisors. We have been called upon to secure new supervisors in music and drawing. Miss Ruth H. Nourse who had been in charge of the music for one year had in that time secured a good response from both teachers and pupils. She resigned to accept a much better salary in Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

All connected with the public schools regretted the resignation of Miss Margaret J. Carney who had been the efficient supervisor of drawing in the schools of the district for more than six years. As a teacher she was faithful, conscientious and successful; as a supervisor she was careful, painstaking and efficient; her personality was such that she won the lasting esteem of all with whom she came in contact. Her resignation was due to the offer of a much more desirable position in Chelsea.

We have been fortunate in securing supervisors of experience for these important vacancies. Miss Mildred Brennon of Lowell, a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, who had excellent recommendations from the neighboring towns has been in charge of the music since September. I believe that she will do successful work for us as she has done for others.

Miss Edith Merchant of Lowell, a graduate of the Normal Art School, with strong recommendations from the towns where she has supervised the drawing for several years, began her duties with us after the Thanksgiving recess. From what I have seen and heard of her work during the few weeks that she has been with us, I judge that she will maintain the high standards established by Miss Carney.

Teachers. Three regular teachers have left our service during the year. Miss Susan E. Morse, for several years the capable teacher of the primary grade, resigned in the summer to accept a more lucrative position in a neighboring city. All interested in the schools of the town regretted Miss Morse's decision to leave Tyngsboro. She was among the most successful teachers of my acquaintance.

Miss Grace Cochrane, who had taught in the lower grades of the Winslow school for four years, resigned in the summer to accept a position in office work. She was a capable, efficient teacher whom we are sorry to lose.

Miss Louise Sherburne who taught the intermediate school for one year left in the summer vacation on account of the closing of her room. She accepted a position in high school work for which, as a college graduate, she had fitted herself. We wish her every success in her new position.

Mr. Edmund Alger, our special teacher in wood-work for two years, also left in the summer to enter the "service".

Miss Gertrude Eames of Wilmington, for several years a successful teacher in the primary grades, succeeded Miss Morse in grades one and two. As might be expected from her record, she has made a successful start in her work.

Miss Grace Reed, a teacher with excellent recommendations from a near-by town was selected to follow Miss Cochrane. After an excellent beginning of four weeks, Miss Reed resigned to take up commercial work. She was in turn succeeded by Miss Helen Castles, a graduate of the Lowell Normal School with two years' experience. Miss Castles promises to become a successful intermediate teacher.

No Manual Training teacher has yet been found to carry on this line of work with the upper grade boys.

Salaries. On page 52 of last year's report I had an article on the justice of an increase in salaries. Beginning with January, of last year, such increases were granted to the teachers of this town that they expressed themselves as satisfied. Since that time there have been further increases in living expenses and marked advances in the cost of travelling which virtually lowers the net salaries of our teachers. However, the reason for the present article is to discuss the law recently passed concerning teachers' salaries with its application to this town.

On May 10, 1918, the following law was passed:

"On and after the first day of Janurary, 1919, the compensation of every teacher employed in any public day school in the commonwealth, except persons in training and those employed as temporary substitutes, shall be at the rate of not less than five hundred and fifty dollars for the school year in that school." (Not to apply to towns of less than a million valuation).

According to our present schedule a teacher reaches the maximum salary of $600.00 after three years of service. The inexperienced teacher starts with $450.00 and receives an increase of $50.00 per year till the maximum is reached. In other words the teacher who has been successful for two years and started on her third will receive $550.00, just the salary that the inexperienced teacher will now receive. There are ten teachers in the various towns of the district whose salaries will automatically become after Jan. 1, 1919, $550.00. It would seem an injustice to leave the salaries of those teachers who have done faithful work for more than two years on an equality with those just beginning their service. Also the fact that all your teachers who are receiving the maximum salary after more than three years of service, in some cases considerably more, must be considered, for if we leave the salary of these teachers unchanged it will hold no encouragement for a successful teacher to remain in our schools, for there would be no possibility of any increase with the exception of the bare fifty dollars in excess of the legal salary of the first year.

This law compels us to increase the salaries of our inexperienced teachers one hundred dollars after Jan. 1st, but I maintain that in order to carry out the spirit of the law as well as the letter, and in order to maintain the feeling of fair treatment so essential for a teacher to have in her nerve-trying work among the children, it will be necessary for us to grant a proportionate increase to those teachers who are receiving more than $550.00. That is, the law legally applies to ten teachers in the district, but virtually applies to all.

It may be argued that the above quoted law does not apply to Tyngsboro for two reasons, that the town is of less than one million valuation, and that there is now no teacher in town who receives less than the new minimum salary.

The above is true, however, as Tyngsboro has until the last year surpassed the other towns in the district in the matter of salaries, and has for the last year equalled the others in this important phase of school work, so I wish her to continue on an equality with her colleagues in the district. If one town has a less advantageous salary schedule than others under the same conditions, that town will be in an unfavorable light and will soon be discriminated against by teachers seeking positions, to the ultimate detriment of the schools.

Four Rooms. At the beginning of the present school year there was so small an entering class that four rooms, with two grades in a room, could accommodate the number of pupils enrolled. Therefore, a change was made, to the four room system of the past. This plan may or may not be continued, depending upon the number of pupils entering grade one in the fall. Grade one is a very important grade, surpassed if at all only by grade eight. It is essential that the pupil starts right. Better work with the little people can unquestionably be done with but one grade in a room than with two.

War Work. During the past year the teachers and pupils have done what they were able in such forms of war work as could find a place in the schools.

Every room joined the Junior Red Cross in February, 1918. Money was collected for dues and sent in to the headquarters at Lowell. The work of both the drawing and sewing departments was given such a trend that many articles were made. The principal makes the following report:

Made during the year—2 chemises; 2 petticoats; 2 skirts; 2 baby dresses; 2 baby shirts; 2 pr. bootees; 2 bloomer suits; 2 doz. crutch pads; 2 doz. triangle bandages; 5 comfort bags; 6 kits; 3 shirts; 30 shot bags; knitted Afghans; 19 sets dominoes; 29 joke books; 33 puzzles.

In thrift and war stamps sixty-three pupils own stamps or bonds, totalling $552.29.

Every pupil above the first grade promised to have a "home garden," at least a row in an elder person's garden. While the rage of the influenza prevented us from checking up the results in this line it is probable that something was accomplished.

In the Victory Boy and Girl Campaign thirty pupils pledged $33.00.

Manual Training. Mr. Edmund Alger of the Fitchburg Normal School conducted this department acceptably for two years. After the departure of Mr. Alger at the end of the school year we were unable to find anyone to continue with this work. Hand training for the upper grade boys is important and I hope that with the resumption of normal times a man may be found for the wood work.

The work in sewing has been carried on ably by Miss Lena Coburn as you may judge by her special report.

Influenza. Four weeks of the present school year have been lost on account of the necessity of closing the schools in the latter part of September and the early part of October due to the prevalence of the dread influenza and by order of the Board of Health. The loss in time, and loss of interest in the school work, has been an injury to the schools and will undoubtedly affect the success of the year, although a portion of the lost time will be made up during the spring term.

Home Economics. A Home Economics club was formed under the direction of the Middlesex Farm Bureau. An agent of the Bureau has reported to me that the Tyngsboro girls made a success of the club work.

Graduation. A pleasing graduation was held Thursday afternoon, June 20, 1918. After an enjoyable program Mr. Wallace P. Butterfield for the School Committee presented diplomas to the following pupils: Chester Allgrove, Fred E. Davis, Clara E. Doyle, Mildred B. Fuller, George Halligan, Gerald E. Lorman, Malcolm Parrish and Charles A. Payer. Of these eight graduates, two entered Lowell High School, one left town, and five went directly to work.

Back to the School Drive. During the past two years there have been many kinds of "drives." It seems to me a fitting time to start another important drive, back to the schools. A glance at the table of statistics will show you twenty pupils in grade one with but nine pupils in grade eight. This fact continued year by year would seem to indicate that over fifty per cent. of the pupils who enter the first grade each year drop from school as soon as they reach the legal age of fourteen. Again out of eight graduates from the grammar school in June but two entered high school. That is, only ten per cent. of the number entering school as first graders even enter high school.

Only one year ago there were twenty-seven Tyngsboro pupils in Lowell High School, today there are but twelve. If this continues it will become a rarity for a pupil to go to high school, and the great rank and file will be content with elementary schooling, a very imperfect and incomplete education.

Meantime the costly system of the city high school stands wide open, free of cost, to Tyngsboro pupils and parents.

All educators whether national, state, or local, are crying against the children of America giving over their education on account of the lust of high wages. I pass this warning along for a second time, confident that the subject is one of the most important that can come to your consideration.

Co-operation. The need of co-operation between the home and the school has been more apparent this past year than ever before. With many children doing the work of grown people, and with many mothers as well as fathers at work, there has grown throughout the whole child-world a spirit of lack of restraint and in some cases of actual lawlessness and crime.

Parents should realize that they have a responsibility for their children, and that no teacher and no school can take the place of home restraint and discipline.

Conclusion. I wish to call your attention to the reports and tables which follow this report and form a part of it.

I wish again to express my appreciation for the loyal co-operation of teachers, and the cordial support of the committee.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES L. RANDALL,

Superintendent.

Report of Supervisor of Music

Mr. Charles Randall, Supt. of Schools.

Dear Sir :

School work has been so interrupted during the past few months that it hardly warrants a report of results but I feel that we are making definite progress in music.

I have found it advisable to give separate lessons to the first and second grades. The first grade is not expected to work with the second grade in other subjects and I see no reason why they should in music.

We are devoting much time in the lower grades to individual work and every new problem that is taken up is being drilled individually. If pupils become able to sing independently in the lower grades no difficulty will be found in part singing in the upper grades. Great stress is being laid on good tone quality and clear enunciation and I hope to see a great improvement in this respect during the year.

In the upper grades we are giving some time to definite work in music appreciation. We are trying to teach pupils to understand music so that they can listen intelligently as well as to take an active part in it. Short talks are given about instruments of the orchestra and band, and different forms of music such as opera and oratorio; pictures are shown, and records illustrating the lesson are played on the Victrola. The Victrola, when properly used, is of great value in this phase of the work and the boys and girls seem much interested.

Every pupil, when they leave the grammar school, should be able to sing correctly the familiar songs that are being so widely used in community music and during the present term we shall give some time to this work in grades seven and eight.

I wish to thank the teachers for their co-operation in carrying out my plans and also the Superintendent for his interest in my work.

Respectfully submitted,

MILDRED L. BRENNON.

Report of Supervisor of Sewing

Mr. C. L. Randall, Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:

I take pleasure in submitting for your consideration my fourth annual report as Supervisor of Sewing in the Tyngsboro School.

My outline of work is planned to be as practical as possible. The girls of the upper grades have made bloomers, aprons of all kinds, both large and small, underclothes, a smock and one dress. The girls in lower grades have finished bags in which to keep their sewing, small gathered aprons and underclothes.

In addition to this we have made Refugee garments, namely: three men's undershirts, six kits, thirty short bags and five hospital bags and are now working on five large aprons.

I wish to take this opportunity for expressing my sincere appreciation of the hearty co-operation of the teachers and Superintendent.

Respectfully submitted,

LENA M. COBURN.

January 3, 1919.

To the School Committee of Tyngsboro:

During the period covered by this eleventh annual report, the health conditions at the school have varied greatly, ranging from very little illness last spring to an unusual prevalence of sickness in the fall.

For several weeks during the worst of the influenza epidemic the school was closed, and this precaution undoubtedly lessened the spread of the infection more effectively than even the most rigid daily inspection with exclusion of suspicious cases could have done.

The attention of parents is again called to the great importance of immediately reporting to the health authorities, all cases of contagious or infectious disease, such as measles, scarlet fever, influenza, sore throat, (which may be diphtheria), whooping cough and chicken-pox and indeed any sickness at all suspicious of being one which can be transmitted to others.

The recent epidemic of measles could easily have been checked at the very beginning if the family in which the disease started had simply reported the fact of such illness to the Board of Health, a duty required by law and as everybody should know, as much incumbent on the householder as on the attending physician—if there be such.

It is to be hoped that in the future parents will be much more careful to report at once any illness which may be suspected as being transmissible, and never send any of their children to school while such condition exists.

Even the so-called "common cold," with or without cough, is contagious, is easily communicated to those near, and children so affected should not be sent to school; for the "common cold" of one child may produce something far more serious in others less resistant.

Finally, I wish to plead once more for a school nurse, free dental service, fly screens, and a telephone.

Respectfully submitted,
